

Predict Steady Economic Climb

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Gross National Product, the broadest measure of the nation's economic health, grew 11.2 per cent, the biggest increase in 20 years, during the three-month period ending in September, the government said today.

The GNP figures released by the Commerce Department measure the total volume of goods and services produced in the economy.

The sharp increase had been predicted by administration officials and apparently represented the "encouraging economic statistics" President Ford said last week were on the way.

The 11.2 per cent increase for the third quarter was calculated to represent the annual rate. It was the sharpest jump since the first three months of 1955 when the figure was 12.4 per cent.

The burst of total economic output was a signal that the recovery has built a sound foundation, but administration economists cautioned in advance that growth of such magnitude was not likely to be sustained.

Within days after Ford's optimistic statement, James L. Pate, assistant secretary for economic affairs at the Commerce Department, estimated the GNP increase would be in the 9 per cent to 10 per cent range.

The volume of GNP, the dollar value adjusted to account for inflation, rose at an annual rate of 1.9 per cent in the April-June quarter. Prior to the revival, GNP volume had dropped 7.7 per cent over 15 months, marking the deepest recession since the 1930s.

Kissinger Holds Talks With Chinese

PEKING (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger today began four days of talks with Chinese officials after being told by one of his hosts that the danger of a new world war is increasing because of Soviet-American detente.

Kissinger met with Deputy Premier Teng Hsiao-ping to work out arrangements for President Ford's visit to China next month and to discuss the international situation and bilateral issues between the Chinese and U.S. governments.

Teng, who has been directing the day-to-day operation of the Chinese government since Premier Chou En-lai became ill, noted in preliminary remarks before the meeting began that it had been nearly a year since Kissinger's last visit to China.

"It should be said that there are quite a few changes in the world in the last 11 months. There is, therefore, a need to exchange views on these changes," he said.

Kissinger nodded in agreement.

A senior member of the American delegation said he felt the Chinese believe the United States has gained strength in the past year but is still not as strong as it was before Watergate. Kissinger hopes to convince them that the post-Watergate doubt and confusion about American power has been settled.

Kissinger and Foreign Minister Chiao Kuan-hua lectured each other on detente at a banquet Chiao gave Sunday night soon after the arrival of the American delegation.

"The stark reality is not that detente has developed to a new stage, but that the danger of a new world war is mounting," Chiao asserted.

He called for a "tit-for-tat struggle" against "hegemonism," the term the Chinese use of Soviet policy and warned:

"To base oneself on illusions, to mistake hopes or wishes for reality and act accordingly will only abet the ambitions of expansionism and lead to grave consequences."

Kissinger in reply said "there is no relationship to which the United States assigns greater significance than its ties with the People's Republic of China ...

"The United States will resist hegemony as we have already stated in the Shanghai communique (issued at the end of President Nixon's visit to China)," he continued. "But the United States will also make every effort to avoid needless confrontation when it can do so without threatening the security of third countries."

He also told his hosts "each country must pursue a policy suitable to its own circumstances."

President Spends Sunday At Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford spent Sunday at home in the White House after threatening weather canceled plans for golf or tennis.

The President, his wife, Betty, and daughter Susan attended church in the morning and heard an Episcopal minister preach that the church must face modern-day problems, including sexuality and new life styles.

The Rev. John C. Harper, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church across from the White House, told about 500 worshippers that the church should have "an openness to ideas."

Ford spent much of the rest of the day working on proposals for changes in the food stamp program.

But even in advance of the latest GNP report, administration economists were discounting it as a signal of any economic boom.

"To a large extent, this rebound will reflect a sharp slowing in the rate of inventory liquidation and will overstate the underlying strength of the economic recovery," Pate warned in a speech Thursday.

Inventory liquidation is the process of selling off raw materials and finished goods held in warehouses and showrooms. Despite constant demand for goods and services, production nosedives when business is filling orders from inventory, then swings upward sharply at the point where business leaders decide to begin restocking. The restocking means factories are kept busy filling empty shelves and warehouse space while also filling orders.

Meanwhile, there were these developments:

—Treasury Secretary William E. Simon said Sunday that President Ford would veto any tax-cut bill from Congress if it does not include a comparable spending cut. Speaking on ABC's "Issues and Answers," Simon said Ford has made no decisions on where his proposed budget cuts will be made.

—Congress returns to work today from a week-long recess and resumes its debate over income tax cuts for next year and the budget for the fiscal year beginning next Oct. 1.

—The Ford administration is presenting his proposals for changing the food stamp program, and there are indications he will seek stricter eligibility requirements and more benefits for those below the poverty level.

Pumpkin Roundup

The Great Pumpkin Weigh-In between Half Moon Bay, Calif., and Circleville made page one of the Arizona Republic, Phoenix, Ariz. Unfortunately, it was the 272-pound runnerup from Half Moon Bay that was pictured, not the 378-pound champion from the Circleville Pumpkin Show. A clipping was sent to us by Merle Huffer who now resides in Scottsdale, Ariz.

And from Estes Park, Colo., former Roundtown Dave Thomas reports the "Greatest Free Show on Earth" event gets publicity in the Rocky Mountains of Colorado. A 1964 graduate of Circleville High School, Dave is now associated with radio station KSIR of Estes Park and mailed The Herald the last item on UPI's World In Brief of last Thursday. It read: "There are scurrilous rumors which cast grave doubt on the ancestry of the top two prize winners in the Circleville Pumpkin Show. The talk is that neither the 378 pound prize winner nor the 274 pound runnerup could qualify for a pumpkin pie. The growers of the winning pumpkin admit that their entry is really a Hungarian Grey squash. And it's said that no one is willing to talk about the seed source of the runnerup" (which we assume to be the Half Moon Bay entry in the World Series of the Pumpkin although, the wire story did not identify it as such).

With Pumpkin Show out of the way, the Circleville Service Department will attack the fallen leaves. During the annual festival, service department cleanup crews have their hands full each night cleaning the downtown area after the crowds go home and everything is shut up tight. During the day there are usually so many cars parked along the city's streets that it is useless to try to schedule any kind of leaf pickup.

GRAND PRIZE WINNER — The Circleville Kiwanis Club's float won the grand prize in the Pumpkin Show float judging contest.

Heritage was the theme of the floats, which were judged Wednesday but were not given their awards until the Saturday night finale.

Big Food Stamp Changes Promoted By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's plan to change the federal food stamp program will concentrate benefits to the nation's neediest families and reduce costs to taxpayers by at least $1 billion, White House sources say.

Ford spent part of Sunday finishing his proposals, which will be presented to Congress today by Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz.

The 11-year-old food-stamp program in August was serving an estimated 18.8 million persons at an annual cost to the federal government of $5.2 billion.

The proposals being given some last-minute attention include a plan to cut off from eligibility families above the government's official poverty line. At present, there are no limits on income that disqualify a family from the program.

The Census Bureau estimates that almost 12 per cent of the present food stamp population has gross incomes above $6,000. By federal definitions, a family of four is officially impoverished if its gross income is $5,050 or less.

There also would be an increase in the percentage of net income families would pay for food coupons. Recipients now pay between 16 and 24 per cent of net income; under Ford's plan cash payments would be about 30 per cent of net income, sources said.

Another part of the President's program is expected to change the way eligibility is determined. It would replace current itemization of deductions with a standard deduction from gross earnings for families.

The provision was expected to mandate a $100 per month standard deduction plus $25 if an elderly person is in the family. That compares with a current average nationwide deduction between $55 and $70.

The net income in the present calculation is determined by using a complicated, eight-page application to calculate about a dozen itemized deductions from gross earnings including payroll taxes.

Officials and outside experts agree that itemization is what allows the many loopholes that enable middle-income families to spend enough on deductible items to qualify for food stamps.

Ford's plan joins others already pending in Congress. A proposal sponsored by Sen. James L. Buckley, Con-R-N.Y., and Rep. Robert H. Michel, R-Ill., the minority whip, would cut off all families making more than the federal poverty line of $5,050 a year. It further would allow no deductions at all from gross income.

A rival bill, one expected to pass the Senate with most of its provisions intact and a few new enforcement sections from Buckley-Michel, has a standard deduction of $125 plus $25 and allows payroll deductions, too.

That one, sponsored by Sens. Robert Dole, R-Kan., and George McGovern, D-S.D., lets the smoothly graduated scale it proposes run its course to a gross-income ceiling after taxes of $7,776 for a four-person household.

Cash Flow Brings Problems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Budget Director Howard Collier said today he had asked the state auditor to borrow $100 million from the Vietnam Veteran Bonus Fund and federal revenue sharing money so that the state can meet its financial obligations in December and January.

Collier conceded the move was a "gimmick" that would have a "direct effect" on interest earned by the state from those two funds. He could not immediately estimate the amount of interest dollars that would be lost.

The proposal was Collier's answer to expected shortages in the state's cash flow during the traditionally lean months at the end and beginning of the calendar year.

According to the estimates of the Rhodes Administration chief fiscal officer, the state will take in $261 million in December, while facing disbursements of almost $434 million. In January, state income will reach $250.5 million, with payouts projected at $308 million.

With carryover money from proceeding months, Collier predicted the state could get through the difficult period with a $100 million transfer or loan from the two funds.

The budget director said he had made the proposal in a letter to Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson, who must make the actual transfer with approval of the Democrat-dominated state Controlling Board.

"It is a gimmick," Collier said. "We'll have technically complied with the letter of the constitution and statutes."

By spring, Collier said the cash flow problem would ease and loans from the two funds can be repaid within a 60-day statutory deadline.

But he warned of more difficult times ahead beginning in the 1977 fiscal year on July 1, 1976 and endorsed Gov. James A. Rhodes four bond issues "without reservations" as a partial solution.

Without voter approval of the Rhodes issues, Collier, a Rhodes appointee, claimed the 1977-79 state financial picture "will be bleak and maybe disastrous."

The Rhodes administration and Democratic legislative leaders have been at odds over whether the $10.6 billion, two-year budget was underfunded by lawmakers. Collier said previously the budget would come up more than $100 million short over the biennium.

As a result of Collier's forecast, Rhodes last July ordered all executive departments to cut their expenditures two per cent across the board.

Democrats deplored the move as Rhodes' department heads came before the State Controlling Board, which they dominate, asking for emergency funds to prevent employee layoffs. And at the last board meeting, they called on the governor to rescind his order as it applied to departments asking for supplemental funds.

Thomas J. Moyer, Rhodes' executive assistant, said if the governor complied with the board's request and rescinded the cut for only some departments, it would "put the total budget out of balance."

The board released $7 million to prevent layoffs and make employee recalls possible in the natural resources and taxation departments. But it did so because the legislature cut the amounts they originally requested. The action all but wiped out the state's emergency fund for the current fiscal year.

Still before the board are requests from four agencies totaling $3.9 million, with only $1.2 million left in the emergency fund. They include $2.1 from the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, which the legislature gave a sizeable increase from what it received in the last biennium.

Democrats agree generally that there may be a need for a supplemental appropriation bill to replenish the emergency fund, but hinted the departments seeking funds won't get them until the governor rescinds his executive order for the two per cent cut.

Massive Attack On Corruption, Crime Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Department officials are preparing a major attack on government corruption and lucrative national and international fraud schemes, says the department's chief criminal prosecutor.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Richard L. Thornburgh said the criminal division will hire more lawyers and devote more attention to investigating and prosecuting corruption, organized crime and white-collar crime.

But the effort could be hampered if the Internal Revenue Service gets out of criminal investigations, Thornburgh said in an interview.

"The best way to put us out of the business of dealing with white-collar fraud, official corruption and organized crime is to deny us access ... to IRS agents and their files," he claimed.

IRS Commissioner Donald Alexander has suggested the IRS should confine its work to collecting taxes and leave criminal investigations to the Justice Department and other agencies. Thornburgh said Justice Department and Treasury Department officials still hope to negotiate a solution, but if they fail, the dispute could go to the White House.

Meantime, a Justice Department committee appointed by Attorney General Edward H. Levi will complete

New York City Seeks Help From Congress On Default

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mayor Abraham Beame warned Congress today that if New York City defaults, "hundreds of millions of dollars" in his city's bills will go unpaid across the country, to the loss of cities where companies holding the bills are located.

"What is happening to New York City is, and will be repeated across the country," Beame said. "We New Yorkers have always been proud to be the urban laboratory for the rest of the nation. It would be disastrous if the federal government ignored what could become a national urban tragedy."

Beame made the statements in remarks prepared for a House economic stabilization subcommittee.

Spurred last week by President Ford, Beame pleaded with Congress over the weekend for help to stave off financial default by the nation's largest city, which narrowly averted fiscal collapse last Friday. Beame appeared Saturday before the Senate Banking Committee.

New York Gov. Hugh Carey and Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns will appear before the House committee later in the week.

Priest Foils Attempt At Suicide

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A Catholic priest who kept a fivehour prayer vigil outside the room of a threatened suicide, foiled the despondent man's threat to jump 15 stories to his death.

The burly clergyman grabbed the man in a bear hug and wrestled him from a hotel window where he had perched for 7½ hours Saturday.

"I didn't plan it exactly," a shaken Rev. Edward Mackiewicz said after he pulled Richard DeVito, 29, inside the window when DeVito accepted a light for his cigaret.

"He was very strong, but there was no chance that he would get away from me," said Father Mackiewicz, of Marymount Hospital in Cleveland.

The drama began shortly after 6 a.m. when DeVito's roommate at the plush William Penn Hotel, where the pair lived for about two years, left to mail a letter. When he returned, DeVito was at the window in his pajamas and threatening to jump.

DeVito told police he was despondent over the loss of his job as a government clerk.

He remained on the window sill for most of the day and refused pleas from police, another priest, and his parents to get down.

Father Mackiewicz, who stopped in Pittsburgh en route to Philadelphia, heard of the threatened suicide and went to the hotel to offer his help. He prayed outside DeVito's room for five hours before he entered the room with a local television newscaster, whom DeVito had asked to see.

Police said DeVito was taken to Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic for observation.

Moroccan March Plan Under Fire

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Spain today sought action by the United Nations Security Council to discourage Morocco's plan to march 350,000 unarmed Moroccan civilians into the disputed Spanish Sahara.

Sources said Spanish Ambassador Jaime de Pinies would ask the council at a meeting today to send U.N. observers to the frontier between Morocco and the Spanish colony.

De Pinies wrote Council President Olof Rydbeck of Sweden that "the announced invasion" endangers international peace and security and ignores the Saharans' right to self-determination.

Moroccan Ambassador Driss Slaoui told Rydbeck that to call "the peaceful march ... an invasion" was "a distortion of facts."

He said the marchers would be "civilian citizens, unarmed men and women, who received instructions not to reply to any attack by Spanish military forces."

The official Moroccan news agency said Sunday that King Hassan II's call for volunteers drew 362,000 enlistments within 48 hours. The marchers are to begin moving Tuesday by rail, bus and truck toward Tarfaya, 15 miles from the border, and the 50-mile march from there across the desert to El Aaiun, the capital of the Spanish Sahara, is expected to start about Oct. 28.

Convoys of trucks began carrying food, water and blankets to Tarfaya.

Wednesday at the Williamsport Church of Christ with the Rev. Thurman Duncan officiating. Burial, under the direction of the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home, New Holland, will be at Williamsport Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 p.m. Tuesday.

Thieves Raid 5 Homes

Thieves raided five county residences taking various amounts of building interior fixtures, jewelry, money and auto parts.

John Cook, Route 2, told Sheriff's Authorities that thieves kicked out a window pane to gain entry to a vacant house that he is remodeling.

Occurring sometime between Oct. 17 and Oct. 18, the burglars cut a chain fence with boxcutters enabling them to get to the house.

After getting inside the house, the thieves unwired the ceiling light fixtures, removed a television, tools and house building materials.

Value was set at $1560.

Car parts, kept in an abandoned school house used for storage, were taken by thieves, according to owner Charles Fortner, Ashville.

10-Foot-Tall Tower Replica Big Problem

CLEVELAND (AP) — Now that Adam Karpinski has built a 10-foot high replica of Cleveland's Terminal Tower in his living room, he says he doesn't know what to do with it.

Karpinski, 55, undertook the project in April, 1973 to pass the time while waiting for materials to build cornices for his home. The self-taught cabinetmaker and upholsterer said he thought the model would only take a couple of months to complete. "I just finished it last month," he said.

He said that it took 1,200 to 1,500 hours to finish the structure. He handcarved 12,000 to 15,000 pieces of spruce and mahogany to build it.

The replica has more than 3,000 windows made of fireproof plastic with 36 light bulbs inside for illumination. He used 14 pounds of glue and the tower weighs 204½ pounds.

"I went once to the observation deck of the Terminal to see how it's made looking down," Karpinski said about his labors. He said the model cost $270 to make and may be worth more than $3,000.

So there it stands in his living room, and Karpinski said his wife loves it.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Light rain or drizzle fell over most of Ohio last night and early this morning. Amounts were light, averaging less than .1 inch. Temperatures continued rather chilly, falling into the 40s.

A series of weak low pressure systems continues to move through the lower Great Lakes, developing heavy cloudiness with occasional drizzle or light rain. Most of the precipitation was to end during the morning with skies becoming partly cloudy in the southern counties by afternoon.

Elsewhere, a generally cloudy day was forecast. Afternoon highs were to climb only into the 50s.

Skies will begin to clear over the remainder of the state tonight. Lows will be in the 40s. Southerly breezes Tuesday will push afternoon temperatures into the 60s. The weather will be mostly sunny in the south and partly cloudy in the north.

Occurring at 8 p.m. Friday, Fortner apparently scared the burglar from the building.

Five car radiators, valued at $25 were recovered behind the building. A 150-pound five gallon bucket of pure melted down copper, valued at $30, was missing from the building.

Antiques, jewelry and money in the amount of $745, were removed from the Wayne E. Wilson residence near Derby sometime within the past week.

A storage barn, located on the Jerry A. Wilson property near Derby, was broken into by thieves also within the past week. Wilson told Deputies that a hammer or crow bar was used to pry nailed boards off the barn enabling them to gain entry.

Auto parts and tools, valued at $675, were missing.

Paul D. Schein, Route 1, Williamsport, reported to Sheriff's Deputies that thieves entered an open tool shed sometime Saturday or Sunday taking tools and an undetermined amount of gasoline.

The theft amounted to $31.

At the same time, thieves entered Schein's daughter's auto, which was parked in the driveway.

Patty Corcoran of Wilmington, told Deputies that a calculator, clothing and gasoline valued at $121.50, were taken from her unlocked vehicle.

Group Keeps Same Goals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Black Elected Democratic Officials Council has not changed goals because they have not been met in its nine-year existence, the president said.

Rep. C.J. McLin, D-36 Dayton, said during a weekend convention that the principle of the group is to increase minority participation in goods and services contracts from government agencies to increase black economic standing.

"Social and economic equality are two different things," McLin said. However, he pointed out if economic equality is achieved, social equality will follow naturally.

He said black contractors get less than one per cent of state contracts even though the black population constitutes about 10 per cent of the state's population.

"That (10 per cent) would be our minimum," he said.

1976 Dog Tag Price Established

Pickaway County Commissioners today established the price for 1976 dog tags at $3 and for kennel licenses at $15.

Tags go on sale Dec. 1 and all dog owners must have tags by Jan. 20. A $2 penalty is assessed on dog tags for animals over three months of age after that deadline.

The tags must be attached to the dog. Commissioners Dick T. Tootle, L. Robert Liston and Donald Strous pointed out that 3,772 dog tags were sold this year. Funds from the sale of tags pay animal claims to farmers who have had livestock killed by dogs.

Massive Attack On Corruption, Crime Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Department officials are preparing a major attack on government corruption and lucrative national and international fraud schemes, says the department's chief criminal prosecutor.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Richard L. Thornburgh said the criminal division will hire more lawyers and devote more attention to investigating and prosecuting corruption, organized crime and white-collar crime.

But the effort could be hampered if the Internal Revenue Service gets out of criminal investigations, Thornburgh said in an interview.

"The best way to put us out of the business of dealing with white-collar fraud, official corruption and organized crime is to deny us access ... to IRS agents and their files," he claimed.

IRS Commissioner Donald Alexander has suggested the IRS should confine its work to collecting taxes and leave criminal investigations to the Justice Department and other agencies. Thornburgh said Justice Department and Treasury Department officials still hope to negotiate a solution, but if they fail, the dispute could go to the White House.

Meantime, a Justice Department committee appointed by Attorney General Edward H. Levi will complete recommendations for an assault on white-collar crime and corruption early next year, Thornburgh said.

An important element will be aggressive investigations of campaign finance violations, he said.

The Watergate Special Prosecution force, in its final report last week, criticized the department for failing to enforce campaign finance laws for decades. Thornburgh, who took over the criminal division about four months ago after six years as the U.S. attorney in Pittsburgh, said the department has "turned the corner" toward aggressive investigations of campaign finances.

On fraud, Thornburgh said his prosecutors will focus on "the massive fraud case which sometimes — I've got to be frank — goes unprosecuted simply because it is so big and so complicated and ... so difficult to unravel that you don't ever really get to the bottom of it."

He cited no specific examples of cases which have escaped prosecution, but said he will be looking for "multistate, international fraud schemes, securities fraud of substantial proportions, channeling corporate funds into improper enterprises either politically or commercially," and improprieties in union pension funds.

New York City Seeks Help From Congress On Default

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mayor Abraham Beame warned Congress today that if New York City defaults, "hundreds of millions of dollars" in his city's bills will go unpaid across the country, to the loss of cities where companies holding the bills are located.

"What is happening to New York City is, and will be repeated across the country," Beame said. "We New Yorkers have always been proud to be the urban laboratory for the rest of the nation. It would be disastrous if the federal government ignored what could become a national urban tragedy."

Beame made the statements in remarks prepared for a House economic stabilization subcommittee.

Spurred last week by President Ford, Beame pleaded with Congress over the weekend for help to stave off financial default by the nation's largest city, which narrowly averted fiscal collapse last Friday. Beame appeared Saturday before the Senate Banking Committee.

New York Gov. Hugh Carey and Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns will appear before the House committee later in the week.

"If New York City were to default, hundreds of millions of dollars in bills from vendors all over this country would go unpaid, and this could adversely affect not only the economic viability of the companies concerned, but also the communities in which they are located," Beame said in his statement.

"We are not seeking a handout or a bailout. What we want is the use of the federal government's credit, through guarantees of our securities, until we are able to reenter the credit markets on our own."

Beame said the near default Friday "sent shivers" through the financial community in the United States and abroad — to the point of driving up the price of gold.

"There are no choices left for our city," the mayor said. "The rest of the country must place its confidence in us or be willing to let us become an object lesson of provincial politics and do-nothing doctrines."

Beame said Sunday that even if New York City defaulted and thereby was spared from paying interest on its debts, the city would still be $1 billion short of the cash needed to meet payrolls from December to March.

"We'd have to close up the city," he said on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market put together a mild advance today in response to the news of a big jump in the nation's Gross National Product.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 2.36 at $34.54, and gainers led losers by about a 6-5 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

Alexander's was the Big Board volume leader, up 3/4 at 7 in trading marked by a 118,500-share block at 6 1/4.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index inched up .01 to 83.39.

Trading was slow, with analysts noting continued caution over New York City's financial outlook.

The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks gained .05 to 47.11.

John Cook, Route 2, told Sheriff's Authorities that thieves kicked out a window pane to gain entry to a vacant house that he is remodeling.

Occurring sometime between Oct. 17 and Oct. 18, the burglars cut a chain fence with boxcutters enabling them to get to the house.

After getting inside the house, the thieves unwired the ceiling light fixtures, removed a television, tools and house building materials.

Value was set at $1560.

Car parts, kept in an abandoned school house used for storage, were taken by thieves, according to owner Charles Fortner, Ashville.

Occurring at 8 p.m. Friday, Fortner apparently scared the burglar from the building.

Five car radiators, valued at $25 were recovered behind the building. A 150-pound five gallon bucket of pure melted down copper, valued at $30, was missing from the building.

Antiques, jewelry and money in the amount of $745, were removed from the Wayne E. Wilson residence near Derby sometime within the past week.

A storage barn, located on the Jerry A. Wilson property near Derby, was broken into by thieves also within the past week. Wilson told Deputies that a hammer or crow bar was used to pry nailed boards off the barn enabling them to gain entry.

Auto parts and tools, valued at $675, were missing.

Paul D. Schein, Route 1, Williamsport, reported to Sheriff's Deputies that thieves entered an open tool shed sometime Saturday or Sunday taking tools and an undetermined amount of gasoline.

The theft amounted to $31.

At the same time, thieves entered Schein's daughter's auto, which was parked in the driveway.

Patty Corcoran of Wilmington, told Deputies that a calculator, clothing and gasoline valued at $121.50, were taken from her unlocked vehicle.

10-Foot-Tall Tower Replica Big Problem

CLEVELAND (AP) — Now that Adam Karpinski has built a 10-foot high replica of Cleveland's Terminal Tower in his living room, he says he doesn't know what to do with it.

Karpinski, 55, undertook the project in April, 1973 to pass the time while waiting for materials to build cornices for his home. The self-taught cabinetmaker and upholsterer said he thought the model would only take a couple of months to complete. "I just finished it last month," he said.

He said that it took 1,200 to 1,500 hours to finish the structure. He handcarved 12,000 to 15,000 pieces of spruce and mahogany to build it.

The replica has more than 3,000 windows made of fireproof plastic with 36 light bulbs inside for illumination. He used 14 pounds of glue and the tower weighs 204 1/2 pounds.

"I went once to the observation deck of the Terminal to see how it's made looking down," Karpinski said about his labors. He said the model cost $270 to make and may be worth more than $3,000.

So there it stands in his living room, and Karpinski said his wife loves it.

Light rain or drizzle fell over most of Ohio last night and early this morning. Amounts were light, averaging less than .1 inch. Temperatures continued rather chilly, falling into the 40s.

A series of weak low pressure systems continues to move through the lower Great Lakes, developing heavy cloudiness with occasional drizzle or light rain. Most of the precipitation was to end during the morning with skies becoming partly cloudy in the southern counties by afternoon.

Elsewhere, a generally cloudy day was forecast. Afternoon highs were to climb only into the 50s.

Skies will begin to clear over the remainder of the state tonight. Lows will be in the 40s. Southerly breezes Tuesday will push afternoon temperatures into the 60s. The weather will be mostly sunny in the south and partly cloudy in the north.

A Page Of Opinion

Asking For It

If it works as some postal employees fear it will, the Postal Service's new consumer service section could inundate the system with a new headache. The idea is to provide the postal patron with a means of registering complaints or making suggestions — that means coming in the form of service cards which all posts offices and carriers are to supply on request.

The original of the form will go to Washington. A duplicate will go to the local postmaster, who is expected to inform Washington on the back of the card what action was taken on the customer's communication.

If the quantity of complaints, for instance, is considerable, many man hours could be consumed in receiving, checking and reporting on paper. How much of this activity rises to the action stage will determine its success.

Not The Happiest

Bonaventure University. We got a beautiful sitting room and bedroom at Castle Inn and hit the telephone. Jandoli is professor of journalism and we like to swap trade secrets.

Katherine Jandoli answered the phone. She sounded close to tears. "Russ is in St. Francis Hospital," she said. "Intensive care." It began to sound like something we might have expected.

Jandoli is an intense perfectionist. He felt severe chest and shoulder pains and, instead of being our host, he was a restless patient. The doctor said we could see him for five minutes. Russ spent 10 minutes assuring us that it was not a heart attack. "Just nervousness," he said. I wanted to call publisher E. B. Fitzpatrick, but I was afraid to jinx him.

According to our count, we had two healthy friends left — Vincent and Virginia Letro. We set up a dinner date. We looked at them apprehensively as we supped at Lucia's. They were jolly and buoyant.

Vince is a dignified man who never discusses business. He's Olean's undertaker.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Questions being asked about the economy:

—Is the big increase in Gross National Product for the third quarter of the year a forerunner of things to come?

While some professional observers say the third-quarter figures show the economy is surging ahead, others are expressing doubts. They tend not to rely as they once did on the authenticity of statistics.

Some critics say the GNP figures are distorted by more inflation than we seem to realize. That is, what appears to be a husky surge of output really contains a lot of bloat.

Others comment that much of the production simply is going into the rebuilding of depleted inventories and that unless consumer buying improves many of the goods will remain right there in inventories.

Don Conlon, former economist for the Cost of Living Council and now executive vice president of a consulting organization, Capital Strategic Services, is telling clients not to expect any positive growth in GNP for the final quarter of the year.

—Will steel producers be able to make their prices stick?

The Council on Wage and Price Stability has already expressed the opinion that recent increases in steel prices were unjustified in terms of market conditions. They suggested prices might have to fall.

Another economic condition now might add to downward pressures. The U.S. economy is recovering faster than the economies of Japan and European nations.

That raises the possibility that, unable to maintain sales in their own countries, foreign steelmakers will ship increasing amounts of their product here and force American producers to lower their prices.

In times past it wasn't uncommon for the domestic steel industry to seek governmental protection from imports in the form of tariffs, and there is some industry pressure for doing so again.

However, the Council on Wage and Price Stability has already forewarned the industry that it cannot hope to obtain protection while maintaining prices higher than what the council feels the market calls for.

—Will foreign investors in U.S. securities be scared away by recent bankruptcies of American corporations and by the possible default on its bond obligations by New York City?

Money surged into Wall Street early this year, tapered off, and recently showed signs of rising again. That isn't proof that the flow will continue to increase, but it certainly is a comment on conditions elsewhere.

The fact is that the U.S. economy, despite its problems, appears stronger than that of many other industrial countries. Moreover, it is in a more advanced stage of recovery from recession than are the others.

Nobody can be certain about the total impact of a default by New York City, but as far as foreign investors in U.S. securities are concerned, the picture apparently doesn't seem to be much brighter anywhere else.

Air Crash Injures 4

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — Two couples from the Cleveland area were injured when the single-engine plane in which they were riding crashed Sunday on a highway near Greenville-Spartanburg Airport.

The pilot, Daniel H. Muranko, 46, of Strongsville, was in a guarded condition with a leg injury. His wife, Louise, 46, was in satisfactory condition with a back injury.

James A. Chase, 36, of Bay Village, was in poor condition with a back injury and his wife, Sandra, 36, was in guarded condition with a jaw injury.

Police said the crash occurred after Muranko radioed the airport that the engine on his Cessna 210 had failed. The plane hit the tops of trees, crashed and burst into flames.

The three passengers were thrown clear on impact and passing motorists pulled Muranko from the burning plane. Police said the plane was bound for West Palm Beach, Fla.

Hull Quits Post As OSU Director

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Richard B. Hull has resigned as director of the Ohio State University Telecommunications Center due to ill health.

John Bonner, vice president for educational services, said Mervin A. Durea, assistant director, will serve as temporary director.

The 61-year-old Hull headed stations WOSU, WOSU-FM, WOSU-TV and WPBO-TV in Portsmouth. He is chairman of the Ohio Educational Television Network Commission and chairman of the Great Plains Education Television Library Policy Board.

Hull is past president and past board chairman of the National Association of Educational Broadcasters.

Ferguson Notes Tax Distribution

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson reported a supplemental distribution of $1.04 million in taxes on financial institutions and securities dealers.

The intangible tax amounts to three mills per dollar on the value of shares of, the amount of capital employed by and the interest earned on capital employed by financial institutions.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Oct. 20, the 293rd day of 1975. There are 72 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1918, Germany accepted U.S. terms to end World War I and ordered German submarines to their home bases.

On this date:

In 1873, the showman, P.T. Barnum, opened the Hippodrome in New York City.

In 1941, during World War II, a state of siege was declared in Moscow.

In 1945, Arab nations formed a league and warned that creation of a Jewish state in the Middle East could lead to war.

In 1968, Jacqueline Kennedy and Aristotle Onassis were married on his private island, Skorpios, in the Ionian Sea.

In 1971, it was announced that West German Chancellor Willy Brandt was winner of the Nobel Peace Prize.

Ten years ago: The West German Bundestag re-elected Ludwig Erhard as Chancellor.

Five years ago: Algeria granted asylum to the exponent of LSD, Dr. Timothy Leary, who had escaped from jail in San Luis Obispo, Calif.

One year ago: Young anti-government demonstrators in Saigon overran police barricades and stoned the National Assembly building.

Today's birthdays: Former baseball star Mickey Mantle is 44 years old. Actor Jerry Orbach is 40.

Thought for today: Hosts don't mind their guests' shortcomings nearly as much as their long stayings — anonymous.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, the Massachusetts House of Representatives in Water-town appropriated 1,000 pounds to buy winter stores for the poor who had been forced to flee Boston and Charlestown early in the American Revolution.

Circleville city council regenerated interest in a comprehensive development plan for the city when they met with a professional planning firm whose proposal to prepare a plan the previous year had been tabled by the council. The plan was to cost $28,500. The city's share was to amount to $9,800.

Linda Bowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bowers, 921 Circle Drive, was named the 1965 Circleville High School Homecoming Queen.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Justice of Whisler celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

A Citizens Committee was formed to promote passage of a half-mill levy in support of Berger Hospital.

Famed Ohio conservationist Red Lee of Reynoldsburg, lecturing in Pickaway County schools, recommended a 5-mile nature trail at A. W. Marion State Park be improved and schools have all-day workshops at the lake. A sum of $110,000 had recently been allocated to the park for land acquisition and improvements.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I am confused. Are there different types of fibroid tumors of the uterus? Is one more dangerous than the other? Must they all be removed by surgery?

Mrs. H. P. E., Del.

Dear Mrs. E.: All fibroid tumors of the uterus (womb) are considered to be benign or noncancerous.

The greatest number of fibroids grow within the muscle wall of the uterus. A smaller number are attached to the outer covering of the womb, and still others originate in the inner lining of the womb.

These benign, noncancerous tumors are not in themselves dangerous. Occasionally, fibroids reach a large size and may cause pressure on the bladder. Consequently, urinary symptoms are produced.

Similarly, by their large size, pressure may be made on the large bowel and produce symptoms related to it.

These tumors are recognized quickly during routine vaginal examination. Once a diagnosis is made, the fibroid tumor is inspected regularly by the doctor who determines the kind of treatment he believes will be most effective.

When fibroid tumors grow large and produce symptoms of pressure, or when there is unusual bleeding during or between menstrual periods, the possibility of surgery is considered.

In some instances it is possible to "shell out" a fibroid tumor without removing the uterus.

Each case is individually evaluated by the family physician and the consulting gynecologist.

Once the diagnosis of fibroid tumor is made, cooperation between the patient and the physician insures against unusual problems arising from this condition.

I have been told that it is possible to test the eyes for glasses by a machine, without need of a doctor. Is this so?

Mr. T. R., Ohio

Dear Mr. R.: A number of machines have been devised for the purpose of testing the eyes.

Their greatest value lies in testing those people who cannot accurately respond to the doctor's questions during his examination.

These instruments are still being refined. At the present time, they cannot substitute for the individual interpretation that only an eye specialist can give to the patient.

State GOP Seeks Control Of House

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Republicans already are under way with their campaign to regain control of the Ohio House in 1976, with balloting still more than a year away.

State Chairman Kent B. McGough said the secret to the party's success will be in lining up capable, qualified candidates — and that the GOP already has found about a half dozen "excellent" contenders.

McGough said the party's goal is to capture in the vicinity of 25 seats now held by Democrats while holding ranks. This would give Republicans an edge of about 65-34 in the lower chamber, which Democrats now control 59-41.

While not ruling out the possibility of retaking the Senate, the chairman indicated it is more realistic to believe that would be an uphill fight. But "the way we see it, none of their (the Democrats') seats is safe, in either house," he said.

Democrats captured the Senate 21-12 in the 1974 elections, largely as a result of legislative redistricting made possible two years earlier when they nailed down the state Apportionment Board for the first time in more than a decade. It drew new districts favorable to Democrats.

One indication of the priority the GOP places on the 1976 elections is that the State Republican Executive Committee plans a "campaign managers' school" in Columbus early next month.

While perhaps not unprecedented, the early date — two months before candidates even file for the primary — is a clear tipoff. About 50 campaign managers are expected to attend the Columbus seminar, McGough said.

The Republican minority leaders of the two houses — Senate Leader Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, and House Leader Charles F. Kurfess, R-43 Perrysburg — are active in the effort to recruit candidates.

In their letters and speeches, Maloney and Kurfess point especially to what they term domination of Democratic leaders by Ohio's "labor bosses."

Kurfess in particular, speaker of the House in earlier and happier days, depicts the present leadership as bumbling and inept as well in his call for new Republican blood among legislative contenders.

Find Youth Guilty Of Nurses Aide Death

KENT, Ohio (AP) — A three judge panel in Portage County Common Pleas Court on Friday found 16-year-old Myron Manson of Ravenna Township near Kent guilty in the July 5 robbery and murder of a hospital nurse's aide.

Manson had been accused in the slaying of 18-year-old Judy Rigganbach of Ravenna.

Sentencing was set for Nov. 21.

Asking For It

If it works as some postal employees fear it will, the Postal Service's new consumer service section could inundate the system with a new headache. The idea is to provide the postal patron with a means of registering complaints or making suggestions — that means coming in the form of service cards which all posts offices and carriers are to supply on request.

The original of the form will go to Washington. A duplicate will go to the local postmaster, who is expected to inform Washington on the back of the card what action was taken on the customer's communication.

If the quantity of complaints, for instance, is considerable, many man hours could be consumed in receiving, checking and reporting on paper. How much of this activity rises to the action stage will determine its success.

Not The Happiest

By JIM BISHOP

ON THE ROAD, CANADA—Fourteen years ago I promised Kelly a honeymoon at Niagara Falls. Yesterday she watched billions of tons of water fall into a roaring gorge. She said, "Do you know where the ladies room is?"

Life is like that. Reality never matches anticipation. I talked my wife into making this trip. It would be a vacation of sorts, I said. She said it wouldn't. "We'll be living out of a suitcase," she said.

It turned out to be more dismal. Hosts and hostesses tend to kill themselves trying to entertain visitors. At Hilton Head, S.C., old buddy Bill Scanlon took me golfing for three days, then hid my clubs. He was worn out. The attractive Amanda Scanlon tried too hard to please and resurrected some forgotten ulcer pains. The doctor recommended bed rest. The Bishops were traveling with a small dark cloud over their heads.

Rain on Our Plans

We planned a joyous visit with grandchildren and Kelly's sister in New Jersey. We reached Little Silver, N. J., just in time to sustain five days of the worst rain in modern history.

One of the twins, Pamela Frechette, had been in a car accident. She was in Riverview Hospital with hypertension.

My wife began to stare at me moodily. "Cheer up," I said. "We'll visit Aunt Madeline Kelly and then go to Toots Shor's and have lunch with Jack O'Connell and Bob Considine."

We were a day too late. Considine died in the afternoon. Aunt Madeline expired that night. We attended two funeral services in two days. We met Jack Dempsey and Toots Shor. Both crept forward leaning on canes.

We tried to drive upstate New York, but Governor Carey called it a disaster area. The main highways were under water. The question in my mind was: "Is there anybody left who is healthy?" I began to take my own pulse. It had a cha-cha rhythm.

We had dinner with Gene and Sophie Kroll. He spoke softly through a haze of tranquilizers. Business at his Ford Agency was down—as it is everywhere. "Every 20 minutes," he moaned, "nobody comes into the showroom."

The car took us through Pennsylvania and up to Elmira, N.Y. We got a room with an adjoining ice machine. Cubes are louder than falling rocks. My wife sat up and said, "How would you like to be in your own little beddy-bye right now?"

I felt so bad I almost gave up smoking. Almost. The next day was sunny and bright. We were loafing through a town called Holland, N.Y., when the left front tire exploded. I wrestled with the wheel and came to a stop in front of the town cemetery.

It's a difficult place to make a phone call. You wouldn't be caught dead there. We negotiated a price for a mechanic to change the spare tire. He waited patiently while we removed 300 pounds of luggage from the trunk.

Looking Forward

Then it was off-we-go to meet an old friend, Dr. Russell Jandoli of St.

Bonaventure University. We got a beautiful sitting room and bedroom at Castle Inn and hit the telephone. Jandoli is professor of journalism and we like to swap trade secrets.

Katherine Jandoli answered the phone. She sounded close to tears. "Russ is in St. Francis Hospital," she said. "Intensive care." It began to sound like something we might have expected.

Jandoli is an intense perfectionist. He felt severe chest and shoulder pains and, instead of being our host, he was a restless patient. The doctor said we could see him for five minutes. Russ spent 10 minutes assuring us that it was not a heart attack. "Just nervousness," he said. I wanted to call publisher E. B. Fitzpatrick, but I was afraid to jinx him.

According to our count, we had two healthy friends left — Vincent and Virginia Letro. We set up a dinner date. We looked at them apprehensively as we supped at Lucia's. They were jolly and buoyant.

Vince is a dignified man who never discusses business. He's Olean's undertaker.

NEW YORK (AP) — Questions being asked about the economy:

—Is the big increase in Gross National Product for the third quarter of the year a forerunner of things to come?

While some professional observers say the third-quarter figures show the economy is surging ahead, others are expressing doubts. They tend not to rely as they once did on the authenticity of statistics.

Some critics say the GNP figures are distorted by more inflation than we seem to realize. That is, what appears to be a husky surge of output really contains a lot of bloat.

Others comment that much of the production simply is going into the rebuilding of depleted inventories and that unless consumer buying improves many of the goods will remain right there in inventories.

Don Conlon, former economist for the Cost of Living Council and now executive vice president of a consulting organization, Capital Strategic Services, is telling clients not to expect any positive growth in GNP for the final quarter of the year.

—Will steel producers be able to make their prices stick?

The Council on Wage and Price Stability has already expressed the opinion that recent increases in steel prices were unjustified in terms of market conditions. They suggested prices might have to fall.

Another economic condition now might add to downward pressures. The U.S. economy is recovering faster than the economies of Japan and European nations.

That raises the possibility that, unable to maintain sales in their own countries, foreign steelmakers will ship increasing amounts of their product here and force American producers to lower their prices.

In times past it wasn't uncommon for the domestic steel industry to seek governmental protection from imports in the form of tariffs, and there is some industry pressure for doing so again.

However, the Council on Wage and Price Stability has already forewarned the industry that it cannot hope to obtain protection while maintaining prices higher than what the council feels the market calls for.

—Will foreign investors in U.S. securities be scared away by recent bankruptcies of American corporations and by the possible default on its bond obligations by New York City?

Money surged into Wall Street early this year, tapered off, and recently showed signs of rising again. That isn't proof that the flow will continue to increase, but it certainly is a comment on conditions elsewhere.

The fact is that the U.S. economy, despite its problems, appears stronger than that of many other industrial countries. Moreover, it is in a more advanced stage of recovery from recession than are the others.

Nobody can be certain about the total impact of a default by New York City, but as far as foreign investors in U.S. securities are concerned, the picture apparently doesn't seem to be much brighter anywhere else.

Air Crash Injures 4

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — Two couples from the Cleveland area were injured when the single-engine plane in which they were riding crashed Sunday on a highway near Greenville-Spartanburg Airport.

The pilot, Daniel H. Muranko, 46, of Strongsville, was in a guarded condition with a leg injury. His wife, Louise, 46, was in satisfactory condition with a back injury.

James A. Chase, 36, of Bay Village, was in poor condition with a back injury and his wife, Sandra, 36, was in guarded condition with a jaw injury.

Police said the crash occurred after Muranko radioed the airport that the engine on his Cessna 210 had failed. The plane hit the tops of trees, crashed and burst into flames.

The three passengers were thrown clear on impact and passing motorists pulled Muranko from the burning plane. Police said the plane was bound for West Palm Beach, Fla.

Hull Quits Post As OSU Director

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Richard B. Hull has resigned as director of the Ohio State University Telecommunications Center due to ill health.

John Bonner, vice president for educational services, said Mervin A. Durea, assistant director, will serve as temporary director.

The 61-year-old Hull headed stations WOSU-TV, WOSU-TV and WPBO-TV in Portsmouth. He is chairman of the Ohio Educational Television Network Commission and chairman of the Great Plains Education Television Library Policy Board.

Hull is past president and past board chairman of the National Association of Educational Broadcasters.

Ferguson Notes Tax Distribution

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson reported a supplemental distribution of $1.04 million in taxes on financial institutions and securities dealers.

The intangible tax amounts to three mills per dollar on the value of shares of, the amount of capital employed by and the interest earned on capital employed by financial institutions.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Oct. 20, the 293rd day of 1975. There are 72 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1918, Germany accepted U.S. terms to end World War I and ordered German submarines to their home bases.

On this date: In 1873, the showman, P.T. Barnum, opened the Hippodrome in New York City.

In 1941, during World War II, a state of siege was declared in Moscow.

In 1945, Arab nations formed a league and warned that creation of a Jewish state in the Middle East could lead to war.

In 1968, Jacqueline Kennedy and Aristotle Onassis were married on his private island, Skorpios, in the Ionian Sea.

In 1971, it was announced that West German Chancellor Willy Brandt was winner of the Nobel Peace Prize.

Ten years ago: The West German Bundestag re-elected Ludwig Erhard as Chancellor.

Five years ago: Algeria granted asylum to the exponent of LSD, Dr. Timothy Leary, who had escaped from jail in San Luis Obispo, Calif.

One year ago: Young anti-government demonstrators in Saigon overran police barricades and stoned the National Assembly building.

Today's birthdays: Former baseball star Mickey Mantle is 44 years old. Actor Jerry Orbach is 40.

Thought for today: Hosts don't mind their guests' shortcomings nearly as much as their long stayings — anonymous.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, the Massachusetts House of Representatives in Watertown appropriated 1,000 pounds to buy winter stores for the poor who had been forced to flee Boston and Charlestown early in the American Revolution.

Circleville city council regenerated interest in a comprehensive development plan for the city when they met with a professional planning firm whose proposal to prepare a plan the previous year had been tabled by the council. The plan was to cost $28,500. The city's share was to amount to $9,800.

Linda Bowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bowers, 921 Circle Drive, was named the 1965 Circleville High School Homecoming Queen.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Justice of Whisler celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

A Citizen's Committee was formed to promote passage of a half-mill levy in support of Berger Hospital.

Famed Ohio conservationist Red Lee of Reynoldsburg, lecturing in Pickaway County schools, recommended a 5-mile nature trail at A. W. Marion State Park be improved and schools have all-day workshops at the lake. A sum of $110,000 had recently been allocated to the park for land acquisition and improvements.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I am confused. Are there different types of fibroid tumors of the uterus? Is one more dangerous than the other? Must they all be removed by surgery?

Mrs. H. P. E., Del.

Dear Mrs. E.: All fibroid tumors of the uterus (womb) are considered to be benign or noncancerous.

The greatest number of fibroids grow within the muscle wall of the uterus. A smaller number are attached to the outer covering of the womb, and still others originate in the inner lining of the womb.

These benign, noncancerous tumors are not in themselves dangerous. Occasionally, fibroids reach a large size and may cause pressure on the bladder. Consequently, urinary symptoms are produced.

Similarly, by their large size, pressure may be made on the large bowel and produce symptoms related to it.

These tumors are recognized quickly during routine vaginal examination. Once a diagnosis is made, the fibroid tumor is inspected regularly by the doctor who determines the kind of treatment he believes will be most effective.

When fibroid tumors grow large and produce symptoms of pressure, or when there is unusual bleeding during or between menstrual periods, the possibility of surgery is considered.

In some instances it is possible to "shell out" a fibroid tumor without removing the uterus.

Each case is individually evaluated by the family physician and the consulting gynecologist.

Once the diagnosis of fibroid tumor is made, cooperation between the patient and the physician insures against unusual problems arising from this condition.

I have been told that it is possible to test the eyes for glasses by a machine, without need of a doctor. Is this so?

Mr. T. R., Ohio

Dear Mr. R.: A number of machines have been devised for the purpose of testing the eyes.

Their greatest value lies in testing those people who cannot accurately respond to the doctor's questions during his examination.

These instruments are still being refined. At the present time, they cannot substitute for the individual interpretation that only an eye specialist can give to the patient.

OPEN HOUSE—Mr. and Mrs. Bryan W. Hunt of Route 1, Laurelville, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday with an open house from 2-5 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stinard, Route 1, Laurelville. Hosting the event will be their children: Sue Huffman, Circleville; Virginia Stinard, Laurelville; George Hunt, Adelphi, and Melvin Hunt, Tarlton. Mr. Hunt is a retired sheep shearer and farmer.

Circleville Chapter OES Elects Officers For Year

Betty and Byron LeMay were honored Tuesday evening by being elected worthy matron and worthy patron respectively of Circleville Chapter 90 Order of the Eastern Star. Other officers elected were Betsy French, associate matron; Clarence Radcliffe, associate patron; Mary E. Radcliffe, secretary; Helen Spring, treasurer; Jean Carter, conductress; Beatrice Barnett, associate conductress; and Paulene Hundley, trustee for three year term. Remaining officers will be appointed by the worthy matron-elect.

Upon arriving at the meeting each member was reminded that Halloween was near by being presented a "Pin-on" in the shape of a jack-o'-lantern, flying bat, or black cat.

Following the ritualistic opening of chapter in charge of Elaine Bowman, worthy matron, a reading entitled "Tribute To Autumn" was given by Clarence Radcliffe, worthy patron. During the business meeting annual reports were read by chairmen of trustees, budget, and audit committees. The associate matron announced that installation of 1976 officers would be on Nov. 11 and a practice session would be held on Nov. 9.

In her retiring address Mrs. Bowman stated that during her year of service she had received many things from the close association she had enjoyed with all her officers and the members. She had been given many memories and some priceless friendships. She felt indebted to many who had helped throughout the year. She expressed her appreciation to those on the sidelines as well as to her officers who had done so much to make the year a success. She thanked all her committees and the members of the choral group. A special word of appreciation was given to Mary Radcliffe, secretary; to her worthy patron and brother, Clarence; and to her chaplain and husband, Arthur. She concluded her remarks with a wish to the two officers who will soon assume the leadership of the chapter, Betty and Byron, that their fondest dreams may come true.

The worthy patron complimented the officers for the fine work they had done all year and extended a wish for a happy year to Betty and Byron.

Mrs. Bowman brought the meeting to a close with the quotation of Reginald Holmes "These October days, if all else fails, will silence those who say 'There Is No God'."

The social hour which followed was a Halloween party hosted by the worthy matron and her husband. The serving table was decorated with orange candles surrounding a large paper owl on a small wooden log, the wall in back of the table was liberally decorated with cut-outs of bats, owls, black cats, and witches. The long tables were decorated with small ghosts placed along streamers of black and orange and interspersed with autumn foliage.

The second meeting in October will be omitted in order that members may attend the sessions of Grand Chapter being held at that time in Cleveland.

Birth Control Pills Recalled By Drug Firm

The Food and Drug Administration announces that Ortho Pharmaceutical Corporation of Raritan, N.J., is recalling all stock of its Modicon birth control pills, according to Gordon Bourgin, consumer affairs officer, Cincinnati.

Modicon is an estrogen-pregesterone pill used by about 150,000 women in the United States. Chemical stability tests conducted by the firm shows that some of the pills have reduced estrogen levels. This reduction in estrogen may lower contraceptive effectiveness.

Women using the Modicon pills for contraception are advised to contact their physicians as soon as possible for a substitute product. Until the substitute product is being used, women are advised to continue using the Modicon pills and, in addition, to use a supplemental contraceptive method.

For information about Food and Drug Administration consumer programs, write Food and Drug Administration, 1141 Central Parkway, Cincinnati, Ohio 45202 or phone (513) 684-3500.

Gardenwood Club Plans Program

Gardenwood Club has scheduled a meeting and program for 8 p.m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Robert Scherer, 610 Garden Parkway. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Ray Cundiff and Mrs. Charles Gerhardt.

The program will be a demonstration on artistic arrangements by Mrs. S. G. Measamer.

In an effort to keep society news current, The Herald has established the following policy concerning wedding news:

Wedding forms may be obtained at The Herald from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and until noon on Saturday.

It would be helpful to have the wedding form completed and returned with a picture three days before the wedding.

The Herald will make every effort to publish the story and picture on the next day of publication following the wedding providing the forms and picture are returned before the wedding.

No bridal pictures and stories will be accepted if submitted later than 30 days following the ceremony.

News Of Interest To Women

The Circleville Herald, Monday October 20, 1975

OPEN HOUSE—Mr. and Mrs. Bryan W. Hunt of Route 1, Laurelville, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday with an open house from 2-5 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stinard, Route 1, Laurelville. Hosting the event will be their children: Sue Huffman, Circleville; Virginia Stinard, Laurelville; George Hunt, Adelphi, and Melvin Hunt, Tarlton. Mr. Hunt is a retired sheep shearer and farmer.

Circleville Chapter OES Elects Officers For Year

Betty and Byron LeMay were honored Tuesday evening by being elected worthy matron and worthy patron respectively of Circleville Chapter 90 Order of the Eastern Star. Other officers elected were Betsy French, associate matron; Clarence Radcliffe, associate patron; Mary E. Radcliffe, secretary; Helen Spring, treasurer; Jean Carter, conductress; Beatrice Barnett, associate conductress; and Paulene Hundley, trustee for three year term. Remaining officers will be appointed by the worthy matron-elect.

Upon arriving at the meeting each member was reminded that Halloween was near by being presented a "Pin-on" in the shape of a jack-o'-lantern, flying bat, or black cat.

Following the ritualistic opening of chapter in charge of Elaine Bowman, worthy matron, a reading entitled "Tribute To Autumn" was given by Clarence Radcliffe, worthy patron. During the business meeting annual reports were read by chairmen of trustees, budget, and audit committees. The associate matron announced that installation of 1976 officers would be on Nov. 11 and a practice session would be held on Nov. 9.

In her retiring address Mrs. Bowman stated that during her year of service she had received many things from the close association she had enjoyed with all her officers and the members. Man Held In Stolen Ring Case

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Sentencing is scheduled in federal court Dec. 30 for Tommy Ray Stumbo, 27, of Tucson, who pleaded guilty to charges of interstate transportation of stolen property.

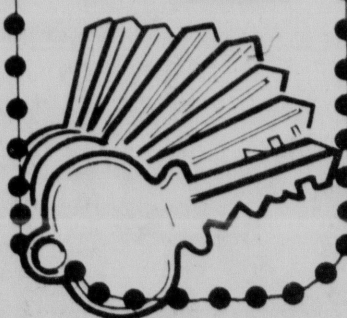

Stumbo was arrested after he allegedly tried to talk an undercover officer into buying what is believed to be the wedding ring of religious reformer Martin Luther. He admitted to transporting the ring and various silver pieces from Columbus, Ohio, to Tucson when he moved here in January.

The ring, believed to be an early copy if not the original used at Luther's June 1925 wedding to Catharina V. Boren, was appraised at $7,500. Along with silver commemorative pieces, the ring disappeared from the Concordia Historical Institute in Clayton, Mo. eight years ago.

A federal complaint filed against Stumbo said he admitted stealing the ring in a burglary of an Arlington, Va., home in late 1968. He allegedly took the valuables to Ohio, where he lived before moving here.

State Issue 1 On Lands Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A proposed change in Ohio's Constitution which assertedly would enhance and preserve Ohio's recreational lands appears on the Nov. 4 ballot as State Issue 1.

The issue, like four others that originated in the legislature this year, has had little discussion in the midst of massive publicity created by Gov. James A. Rhodes' four-amendment economic package. The latter went on the ballot by means of initiative petitions.

The prime sponsor of Issue 1, Rep. Kenneth R. Cox, D-44 Barberton, says his proposal has far reaching implications that could save areas for recreation that otherwise may be engulfed by urban sprawl.

The proposal is built around a contention that the private owners of parks, golf courses, tennis courts, swimming pools, and similar recreation spots should be considered for a break in their property taxes.

Scattered opposition came in the legislature from those who contended the proposal represents another step in the erosion of the property tax base, affecting schools and local governments. Proponents said the loss would be minimal, and to some extent recoverable over the long haul.

The proposal doesn't assure such a break, but states simply that if voters give their approval, the legislature in the future may pass laws permitting the taxation of recreational land on the basis of its current use, instead of market value.

In other words, a golf course adjacent to an industrial plant or developing residential area would fall, for tax purposes, into a stabilized tax category, rather than have its value pushed upward as values of surrounding properties increase.

Voters in 1973 gave their permission for a similar tax break for Ohio's farm lands by an overwhelming margin—1,810,630 for to 567,189 against. That amendment, like the one now pending, provided for recoupment of all forgiven taxes in the event the land in question was sold or converted to other use.

Debate in the legislature on Issue 1 flared intermittently for months, and for a time the proposal was being called "the country club amendment." Owners of recreational lands lobbied extensively for it, and the arguments eventually subsided.

The legislature's 11-member black caucus, skeptical at first, gave its support after a key amendment provided that the tax exemption would not apply to any property owner who discriminates against or violates the civil rights of individuals under civil rights statutes.

Final votes in the legislature were 24-5 in the Senate and 73-19 in the House. There has been no organized opposition to the amendment at the statewide level.

Court Action Over Taxes Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Supreme Court has been asked to order a lower court to hear a taxpayer's suit that contends $903,000 more than necessary was spent on electrical work in the State Office Tower.

An appeal was filed on behalf of Nancy M. Andrews of Columbus, a taxpayer who filed the suit in Franklin County Common Pleas Court, which declined to hear the suit.

The suit contends the electrical work should have been performed under an initial low bid, but was later awarded to a higher bidder after the first withdrew.

Mrs. Andrew's suit contends the Ohio Building Authority should not have allowed the bid withdrawal.

SALE OF PRODUCE — Pumpkin Show visitors spent the biggest portion of their time Saturday buying the wide assortment of pumpkin, squash, and gourds offered by local growers. The items were considered bargains, for the most part, as they had been displayed at the 59th annual Pumpkin Show.

Police Busy In Wake Of Festival

Weekend thieves and vandals kept Circleville Police very active investigating reports of loss and damage.

Police charged a 21-year-old Columbus man, James Smith, with intoxication and criminal damaging after he apparently broke the front door glass at the Pickaway County District Public Library with his fist.

Smith was treated at Berger Hospital's emergency room and later released for a large cut to his hand following the 7:15 p.m. Saturday incident.

Police said Smith apparently became angry when he found the library locked.

A wallet containing $103 and personal papers was taken from a Gooding Amusement Co. employee while he was sleeping Saturday night.

Jerry Long, Carrollton, told police that he placed several chairs together to make a bed inside the Duncan Cafeteria, which was located on the downtown Marathon Service Station lot during the Pumpkin Show.

Long apparently removed his pants, which contained the wallet, while sleeping and placed the pants under the chairs.

Two bicycles were stolen Sunday night from in front of the houses of the owners. Persons reporting the thefts were William Whitaker, 1090 Sunshine St., and Connie Blevins, 430 Watt St.

And two antennas were broken from vehicles parked on the 400 block of S. Scioto St. Friday night.

The cars are owned by Floyd Hettinger, 423 S. Scioto St., and Charles Lightle, 429 S. Scioto St.

Carl Hawks, Route 1, Stoutsville, told police that vandals sprayed paint on the hood and windshield of his car which was parked behind the L.M. Butch Co. from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Saturday.

Thieves apparently were unable to gain entry to the S. Court St. elementary school, 1250 S. Court St.

Circleville Police discovered two-inch pry marks on the southeast door of the building, and noted that windows on the northwest and south sides of the office were broken.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Clerk Shaken By Shoddy Tactics

DEAR ABBY: To whom do I owe my first responsibility—another human being or my employer?

At the store where I work, two fans were brought up from the basement to be sold. These fans had been used all last year to keep the circulation going in the basement. But when they were brought up on the floor, they were not marked down.

If I were a customer, I would appreciate being told that the fans were used. Since I am a salesperson, have I the right to tell the customer the truth? And if I haven't the right (or the courage), should I tell my employer that I can't work where I am expected to lie?

STUDENT

DEAR STUDENT: Tell your boss that your conscience will not permit you to lie. He may be so impressed with your integrity that he will reward you for it. (P.S. He may also fire you.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have just had another violent fight concerning our 5-year-old son, and I need your advice.

Last Christmas, I bought our son a doll. He spends hours playing with it—putting doll clothes on it and feeding it on doll dishes. This annoys his father no end, and several other adults have made nasty remarks about it.

Personally, I see nothing wrong with our son playing with this doll because it is a sailor doll, which is the image of masculinity.

Why is it that when a little girl plays cowboys and Indians, everyone says she is a "darling little tomboy," but when a boy plays with a doll, they say he is "queer"?

N.J.

DEAR N.J.: Because our society tolerates athletic, tomboyish girls far better than loving, motherly boys.

I personally see nothing wrong with a little boy playing with a sailor doll—or any other kind of doll for that matter, but I would wonder why a mother would go overboard by buying her son a doll, doll clothes and doll dishes.

The obvious answer is that she must have wanted a little girl. Did you?

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman in my 60s. When I was 45, I had a change of life baby who is now 18, and he's driving me crazy!

He goofed off in school last year and had to go to summer school to graduate next June.

He's going with a 15-year-old girl who looks like she's 20. They are together night and day. Her mother called and asked me to tell my son not to hang around her daughter so much because they're entirely too thick. I tried, but got nowhere.

I'm afraid these kids are going to get into trouble and will have to get married. I want my son to go to college and make something of himself.

How can I break up this relationship? I'll do anything.

WORRIED MOM

DEAR WORRIED: I doubt that you can break it up. If you forbid them to see each other, they'll probably do so behind your back.

I do not approve of premarital sex, but if you have reason to believe it's going on (or is about to), the lesser of the evils is to make sure they are sufficiently informed so there will not be a hurry-up marriage and or an unwanted baby.

CONFIDENTIAL TO GEORGE B. AND KARIL: Your parents love you and understand. All is forgiven. The door is open if you want to come home. Call them collect. They'll sleep better tonight, and so will you.

Weekend Crashes Kill 11 Persons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic accidents claimed 11 lives in Ohio for the second straight weekend and matching the weekend average so far this year.

The toll this weekend included two pedestrians and a double-fatality wreck involving a car and train. Among the other victims was the son of the Clark County prosecutor.

The count was taken by the Ohio Highway Patrol between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

The dead:

SUNDAY
SPRINGFIELD — James C. Berry, 21, of Springfield, when his car went off Ohio 72 north of Springfield and crashed into a guard rail. The victim was the son of Clark County Prosecutor James A. Berry.

WARREN — Jerry A. Yinger, 25, of Conneaut, when struck by a car on Ohio 11 in Trumbull County.

ELYRIA — Wendell N. Biddinger, 44, of Nova, in a one-car accident on a Lorain County road.

CINCINNATI — David Mallicote, 24 of Hamilton, in a car-pedestrian accident on a Cincinnati street.

SATURDAY
TOLEDO — Dennis, 23, and Mary Shelburne, 20, both of Monclova, in a car-train accident on a Lucas County road.

CANTON — Gregory Boyer, 14, of Minerva, in a one-car accident in Stark County, near Canton.

WARRENSVILLE HEIGHTS — Yvette Pruitte, age unknown, of Warrensville Heights, in a one-car accident in this Cleveland suburb.

CINCINNATI — James W. Beasley, 43, address unknown, when his car struck a utility pole on a Cincinnati street.

FRIDAY NIGHT
UPPER ARLINGTON — Joseph Fuller, 17, of Upper Arlington in a one-car accident in that community.

MASSILLON — Howard L. Potts, 39 of Hartsville, in a one-car accident in Stark County.

King Olav V Tours Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — Norway's King Olav V has toured Seattle, shaking hands with the congregation at a Lutheran church and visiting the sailboat Oslo on the waterfront.

The visiting monarch was at Ballard First Lutheran Church on Sunday to hear Dr. David W. Preus, president of the American Lutheran Church, deliver the sermon.

After the service the king stood at the sanctuary door and shook hands as the congregation filed out.

He was then driven to Seattle's waterfront where he found the Oslo in the same excellent condition it was in when it was auctioned off for charity in the 1930s when a new boat was built for him.

REPEAT PERFORMANCE

Set Energy Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirty Springfield, Ohio, residents were to arrive here today to demand that Congress and President Ford do something to solve the energy crisis. The delegation of 29 men and one woman has appointments with U.S. Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Springfield, with the two Ohio senators, with Federal Energy Administrator Frank G. Zarb and with White House officials.

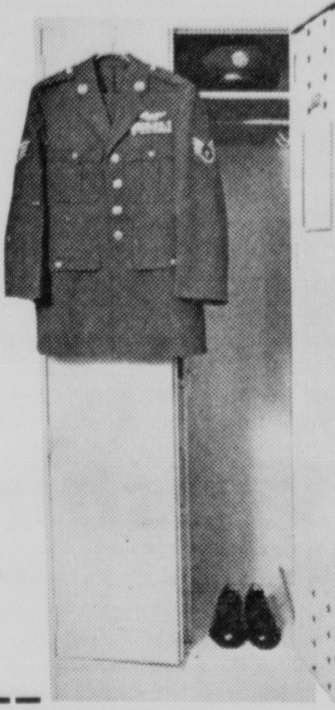

The group will bring petitions with 59,413 signatures from their city of 82,000. Jim Foreman, an auto dealer and spokesman for the group, said, "We put men on the moon and let them play around up there for seven or eight days... Why can't they be working on energy."

Brown said the petition drive may be the thing to "force a reluctant Service like ours. Because when it comes to service no one comes close to the phone company. And even though someone else may give you a positive picture about their phone systems, they're a long way from giving you the kind of service picture you get from the phone company. For example, we won't set you up with a highly specialized phone system unless we can back it up with a highly specialized service force.

What's more, when you need us, we're there. The simple fact is: no one has the men, the available equipment, the total experience to service your phone faster than the phone company. After all, we're only a phone call away.

King Olav V Tours Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — Norway's King Olav V has toured Seattle, shaking hands with the congregation at a Lutheran church and visiting the sailboat Oslo on the waterfront.

The visiting monarch was at Ballard First Lutheran Church on Sunday to hear Dr. David W. Preus, president of the American Lutheran Church, deliver the sermon.

After the service the king stood at the sanctuary door and shook hands as the congregation filed out.

He was then driven to Seattle's waterfront where he found the Oslo in the same excellent condition it was in when it was auctioned off for charity in the 1930s when a new boat was built for him.

Set Energy Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirty Springfield, Ohio, residents were to arrive here today to demand that Congress and President Ford do something to solve the energy crisis.

The delegation of 29 men and one woman has appointments with U.S. Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Springfield, with the two Ohio senators, with Federal Energy Administrator Frank G. Zarb and with White House officials.

The group will bring petitions with 59,413 signatures from their city of 82,000. Jim Foreman, an auto dealer and spokesman for the group, said, "We put men on the moon and let them play around up there for seven or eight days... Why can't they be working on energy."

Brown said the petition drive may be the thing to "force a reluctant

Here's what you don't get with someone else's phone system.

Service like ours.

Because when it comes to service no one comes close to the phone company. And even though someone else may give you a positive picture about their phone systems, they're a long way from giving you the kind of service picture you get from the phone company.

For example, we won't set you up with a highly specialized phone system unless we can back it up with a highly specialized service force.

What's more, when you need us, we're there.

The simple fact is: no one has the men, the available equipment, the total experience to service your phone faster than the phone company.

After all, we're only a phone call away.

Rain-Delayed World Series May Resume Tonight

Buckeyes, Wolverines In Big Wins

BOSTON (AP) — Johnny Bench dislikes playing the World Series at night, but at this stage of the game, he'll take the World Series anytime.

The fall classic was postponed for the second day in a row Sunday and the prospect for another rainout clouded the air as the Cincinnati Reds and the Boston Red Sox prepared for the sixth game tonight.

"I don't think any World Series game should be played at night," said Bench, Cincinnati's All-Star catcher. "I don't think you'll see the best performances from the players. Baseball should be played in the daytime, in sunshine preferably."

This hasn't been the set for the "Sunshine Boys" around here for some time. Last weekend, it rained during the second game of the Series, but they managed somehow to play between the raindrops.

After the Reds took a 3-2 lead in Cincinnati, the teams came back to Boston for Game No. 6 and were stopped cold by a "Nor'easter"—a long-winded storm that often belts the New England area.

That troublesome storm was expected to linger through today, perhaps causing another postponement. Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn who rescheduled the sixth game for 8:30 p.m. EDT tonight, said he wasn't "very optimistic" about playing it.

Bench—and everyone else—was sorry to hear that.

"I'm anxious to start playing," Bench said, echoing the sentiments of everyone but the ducks.

While everyone talked about the weather Sunday, the Reds did something about it. They took their road show indoors and worked out at a cage on the campus of Tufts University, just outside Boston.

There, Manager Sparky Anderson announced that he was changing his starting pitcher for Game No. 6.

"It will be Gary Nolan, instead of Jack Billingham," Anderson said. "Nolan hasn't relieved all year and he's rested. Billingham has some experience as a relief pitcher. I'll have him and Fred Norman up early in the bullpen and I'll use them depending on the situation."

Anderson is saving his best for last. In other words, Don Gullett will pitch the seventh game, if another game is needed.

"In no way, shape or form will Gullett pitch tonight," the Cincinnati manager insisted. "He'll go in the seventh game."

The rain not only served to change Anderson's pitching plans—but also those of Boston Manager Darrell Johnson. He was going to use Bill Lee on Sunday, but the extra day's rest made Luis Tiant the logical choice to save the Red Sox from extinction.

Lee, usually philosophical, was anything but that after he was pulled off the prestigious starting assignment for Boston's "must-win" game.

"I disagree with the manager's decision," said the outspoken left-hander. "I think it would be better to save Luis for the seventh game and let him go against their left-hander Don Gullett. However, Luis is ready with the extra day of rest, so there's no sense in complaining."

Johnson defended his choice.

"With the extra day's rest, Luis is ready to pitch and I don't want to hold him back," said the Boston manager. "Lee is ready, but I think it's better to put him back. It really doesn't make much difference in the long run because we still have to win two games."

The Red Sox had no formal workout Sunday, but a handful of Boston players did go through light drills in a section underneath the stands at Fenway Park.

"Rainouts don't normally hurt us," Johnson said. "Our regulars have good individual workouts out there in center field. The only problem is that they don't see live pitching. Hitting against 'iron mike' (the pitching machine) isn't the same."

While the players worked out under the stands, the grounds crew plotted a game plan for preparing the crippled field.

"If and when the rain stops, we would bring in two helicopters as we have twice before this season," said Joe Mooney, Fenway's veteran groundskeeper. "If it doesn't rain, we can get the field in shape."

Mooney said Sunday that the field was saturated, with water lying on the infield tarp and in the outfield, but that "It drains very well." An aerating machine, which permits air to enter the soil through small holes, was put on the field for its drying effect.

The staging of a night game set up a peripheral drama. Because of Kuhn's scheduling, the World Series game on NBC was pitted head-to-head with ABC's coverage of the National Football League game between the New York Giants and the Buffalo Bills. This night time baseball vs. football ratings war had not occurred before.

Asked if he "relished" the confrontation, Kuhn told reporters: "Relish is the wrong word. I don't mind it but I'm not going out of my way looking for it." Kuhn added, however, that he thought that baseball would win the ratings game.

"I'd be a little surprised if it didn't have a higher rating," the commissioner said.

The 1975 World Series is threatening to break a record for the longest fall classic in history. The record for the longest World Series is 13 days set in 1911 by the New York Yankees and San Francisco Giants. The 1962 Series was the last time there were two successive rainouts.

Anderson, for one, took the successive washouts goodhumoredly.

"We're having a lot of fun," said the Cincinnati manager. "I had the directions to our workout and we got lost twice trying to get to Tufts. I hear Harvard has a similar type of facility and I haven't checked it out, but I think they kind of favor the Red Sox more. We decided to come here. You can go crazy locked in a hotel room, going shopping or to the movies."

Anderson, who was educated in the school of hard knocks, then poked fun at himself.

"I never thought I'd get into any university, let alone Tufts," he said.

Poor Woody. Poor Bo. Their teams were so devastating last Saturday that neither coach can truly evaluate their respective performances.

Woody Hayes' top-ranked Ohio State Buckeyes crushed Wisconsin 56-0 and Bo Schembechler's seventh-ranked Wolverines bettered that with a 69-0 demolition of Northwestern.

"It's difficult to evaluate just how well you did play when a team fumbles 10 times, loses five of them and gets intercepted," said Hayes.

"I don't think this game was a true assessment of our team or their team's ability," said Schembechler.

Realistically, however, Hayes said "Overall we played well offensively and the defense was dynamite. That's three straight shutouts against Big Ten opponents."

Schembechler was asked why Michigan didn't throw more than five passes in the game.

"You know how I love to pass," Bo said with tongue in cheek. "I didn't want to run up the score on my old roommate."

Northwestern Coach John Pont was as shaken by the defeat as was Wisconsin Coach John Jardine.

Pont, Schembechler's roommate at Miami of Ohio, moaned, "The scoreboard tells it all. It was totally embarrassing. We didn't react, we didn't block and we didn't tackle. They did all those things."

Houston Upsets Washington, 13-10

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

A lot of fans figured Houston might get a kick out of Billy "White Shoes" Johnson, the Oilers' dazzling kick-returner. Instead, the Oilers showed Washington their heels when Robert Brazile got the boot.

The surprising Oilers, once the laughingstock of the National Football League but now once-beaten in five games, erupted in anger Sunday after Brazile, their star rookie linebacker, was kicked out of the game.

With the Redskins leading 7-6 in the third quarter, Billy Kilmer was directing Washington deep into Houston territory. And with Kilmer scrambling, Brazile rammed him out of bounds at the Houston 21 — and applied what officials said was a forearm chop to Kilmer's neck.

Out of the game went Brazile — and out of the stands came a furious, thundering chorus of boos from the 51,911 fans in the Astrodome.

And out came the fury of the Houston defense. It stiffened and held the Redskins to Mark Moseley's 32-yard field goal.

And back came the equally aroused Houston offense, marching 62 yards with the ensuing kickoff. The final play, in the opening minute of the fourth quarter, was Don Hardeman's second one-yard touchdown plunge of the game, the one that carried Houston to a 13-10 upset victory.

In the rest of the NFL, Green Bay knocked Dallas from the unbeaten ranks with a 19-17 surprise victory;

Cincinnati stayed perfect by whipping Oakland 14-10; Minnesota did the same by holding off Detroit 25-19; Miami mangled the New York Jets 43-0; St. Louis beat Philadelphia 31-20; New England scored its first victory by topping Baltimore 21-10; Pittsburgh crushed Chicago 34-3; Los Angeles whipped Atlanta 22-7; Kansas City nosed out winless San Diego 12-10; San Francisco outlasted New Orleans 35-21, and Denver squeezed past winless Cleveland 16-15.

Unbeaten Buffalo hosts the New York Giants tonight.

Packers 19, Cowboys 17

"I'm about three feet off the ground," said elated first-year Coach Bart Starr after John Hadl gave the previously winless Packers their upst of Dallas with a 26-yard scoring pass to Rich McGeorge in the closing minutes.

Bengals 14, Raiders 10

Rookie cornerback Marvin Cobb rambled 52 yards with a third-quarter interception for the touchdown that carried the Bengals past Oakland in their mistake-laden game.

"When momentum is on the sidelines for both teams, when you are bottled up like that, you have to be patient and not make mistakes," said defensive end Ron Carpenter. "Today they were the ones who made the mistakes."

Vikings 25, Lions 19

Fran Tarkenton fired his ninth and 10th touchdown passes of the year — four yards to Stu Voigt and 10 yards to Ed Marinaro — and Fred Cox kicked three field goals to keep Minnesota unbeaten. But the Vikings had to hold off the Lions, who fell behind 25-3, then rallied on two Bill Munson touchdown passes.

Dolphins 43, Jets 0

"I didn't expect to do anything like this against the Jets," said Miami quarterback Bob Griese, who completed 10 of 14 passes for 155 yards, threw for three touchdowns and ran for one. The Dolphins intercepted Joe Namath six times.

Cardinals 31, Eagles 20

Jim Otis' 116 yards gained and two touchdown runs and Jackie Smith's dazzling touchdown reception on a 30-yard Jim Hart pass helped St. Louis overcome Philadelphia's early lead.

Patriots 21, Colts 10

Unheralded Andy Johnson crunched out 124 yards and scored on runs of one yard and 66 yards to carry the Patriots past Baltimore.

Steelers 34, Bears 3

Terry Bradshaw's three methodical, second-half touchdown drives, one of them climaxed by his own short run, and Pittsburgh's smothering of the Chicago passing game, carried the Steelers over the Bears.

Rams 22, Falcons 7

James Harris' touchdown passes of 44 yards to Bob Klein and 28 yards to Harold Jackson and three Tom Dempsey field goals boosted the Rams over Atlanta. All five scores followed turnovers by the Falcons.

Chiefs 12, Chargers 10

Mike Livingston hit tight end Walter White with a 60-yard scoring pass and Jan Stenerud kicked field goals of 31 and 27 yards to lead Kansas City past the Chargers.

49ers 35, Saints 21

A blocked punt and a recovered fumble set the stage for two first-quarter San Francisco touchdowns — passes of 29 and 20 yards from Norm Snead to Gene Washington — in the 49ers' victory over New Orleans.

Broncos 16, Browns 15

Jim Turner's 53-yard field goal — the longest of his 12-year pro career — coming with no time left in the game, vaulted Denver over the Browns.

Bowling At A Glance

Now that the Pumpkin Show is over for another year, we can get back to bowling. Only 19 leagues braved the crowd to get to the establishments for a time of relaxation.

Back a week, Oct. 12 that is, bowlers in the Late Sunday Mixed League rolling high scores were, Ruth Strawser, 209-554; Larry Dietrich, 257-631; Don Hipp; 2-236 games with a series of 685; Sid Sanders, 602 and Sherrie Newhouse, 532. Hipp and Strawser rolled heavy team scores of 902-2545.

Dwight Newhouse rattled the lanes for a 234-638 in the early Monday Night League. John Conrad and Bob Rickard each bowled scores of 222 with Conrad rolling a 609 series.

In the Late Monday League at the Recreation Center, Charles Galloway rolled the high games with a 234-596.

Those Midnight Roamers from GE were at it again as Alice Evans rolled a 231-542, Marcia Pontious a 200-515 and Alice Shoemaker scored a high series of 560.

Sharon Hayes shined for a 224-508 in the Morning Glories League. Becky Wolfe was right behind Sharon with a 204.

In another of the Ladies Leagues Barbara VanBuskirk rolled a 193-506. The Tuesday night Ladies saw Ruth Strawser bowl a 209-561; Faye Weethee had a single of 207 and Penny Dietrich rolled a series of 510.

Bob Bartholomew rolled the high single of 235 and Donald Rathburn the high series of 584 in the Ashville K of P league Tuesday.

Those WNRE men made up their games Sunday and did it with a big "D" for "dy-no-mite". Single games were rolled by Randy Arledge, 258; Charlie Galloway, 254 and Dwight Newhouse, 234. High series were rolled by Randy Arledge, 664; Dwight Newhouse, 614; and Charlie Galloway, 607.

Team Highs rolled at Circle D were Scioto Valley Bowling, 1109-3157; Giovanni's 1099-3088; Reynolds, 950 and Scioto Building and Loan, 2641.

Out on the prairie, the royalty came to reign as Dan Teal bowled a crowning 211-599 with Carolyn Miller and Marilyn McWilliams adding a touch of sparkle with scores of 183 and 500 respectively.

In the King and Queens, Steve Olney rolled a high single of 206 and Bill Ballou a series of 543. Sue Moats bowled a 198 and Karen Evans, 522.

Keglers Owen Fullen and Joe Minnix were howling as they rolled scores of 245 and 593 respectively.

In the Roundtowners, Tillie Smith took honors in both categories as she hit a 202-531.

Steve Mogan bowled a single high of 199 and Tony Boltenhouse a series of 519 in the Prairie Men's League.

Sue Moats did a little pow wow to help her take the high in both classes bowling a 178-449.

Those Prairie Gals, Dorothy Jenkins and Marge Olney rolled scores of 202 and 514 respectively.

Ronnie Agin shattered the pins for a single of 223 and Everett Bell rang the pins for a series of 569.

A coffee break it's not, but the ladies enjoy the sport. Thelma Penwell bowled a 197 single and Donna Speakman a 520 series.

In Friday's Mixed Couples high singles were rolled by Pat Henson, 195 and Pete Whitesed, 221. High Series scores were rolled by Pat Stumbo, 539 and Bob Justus, 575.

Team highs bowled at the Prairie were East End Market, 961-2612; Van Camp's 957 and Spark's Roofing, 2727.

It's a full schedule this week, so how about another 700?

Broncos Edge Browns; Win 16-15

DENVER (AP) — For at least three quarters of Sunday's National Football League game between Cleveland and Denver, it appeared the luckiest persons where those 279 fans who bought tickets but didn't show up.

In a ghastly performance, the Browns and Broncos traded field goals, turnovers, penalties and insults.

Somewhat fittingly, the most dramatic and meaningful play of the game came with no time left on the clock. Jim Turner kicked a desperation 53-yard field goal — the longest of his 12-year pro career — at the gun to give Denver a 16-15 victory.

Turner's boot, and the fourthquarter relief work of Denver quarterback Steve Ramsey, offset a brilliant kicking performance by Cleveland's Don Cockroft, who booted a record five field goals.

The five kicks — of 24, 49, 43, 20 and 42 yards — established a team record for a single game. Cockroft's fourth conversion of the afternoon tied the NFL mark of 16 consecutive field goals, set by Kansas City's Jan Stenerud in 1969. He missed a 37-yard attempt several minutes later, but converted again for the final Cleveland points early in the final quarter.

Ironically, it was a missed attempt by Cockroft with five minutes to go that kept Denver within striking distance.

Oilers Trip Stingers

EDMONTON (AP) — Center Norm Ullman set up two goals by Ken Baird Sunday night as the Edmonton Oilers defeated the Cincinnati Stingers 4-2 in a World Hockey Association game.

Ullman, in his first WHA season after 20 years in the rival National Hockey League, set up several scoring chances besides the two Baird completions. Ullman also turned in a good job of penalty killing before a crowd of 7,181.

Hitting against 'iron mike' (the pitching machine) isn't the same." While the players worked out under the stands, the grounds crew plotted a game plan for preparing the crippled field. "If and when the rain stops, we would bring in two helicopters as we have twice before this season," said Joe Mooney, Fenway's veteran groundskeeper. "If it doesn't rain, we can get the field in shape." Mooney said Sunday that the field was saturated, with water lying on the infield tarp and in the outfield, but that "It drains very well." An aerating machine, which permits air to enter the soil through small holes, was put on the field for its drying effect. The staging of a night game set up a peripheral drama. Because of Kuhn's scheduling, the World Series game on NBC was pitted head-to-head with ABC's coverage of the National Football League game between the New York Giants and the Buffalo Bills. This night time baseball vs. football ratings war had not occurred before. Asked if he "relished" the confrontation, Kuhn told reporters: "Relish is the wrong word. I don't mind it but I'm not going out of my way looking for it." Kuhn added, however, that he thought that baseball would win the ratings game. "I'd be a little surprised if it didn't have a higher rating," the commissioner said. The 1975 World Series is threatening to break a record for the longest fall classic in history. The record for the longest World Series is 13 days set in 1911 by the New York Yankees and San Francisco Giants. The 1962 Series was the last time there were two successive rainouts. Anderson, for one, took the successive washouts goodhumoredly. "We're having a lot of fun," said the Cincinnati manager. "I had the directions to our workout and we got lost twice trying to get to Tufts. I hear Harvard has a similar type of facility and I haven't checked it out, but I think they kind of favor the Red Sox more. We decided to come here. You can go crazy locked in a hotel room, going shopping or to the movies." Anderson, who was educated in the school of hard knocks, then poked fun at himself. "I never thought I'd get into any university, let alone Tufts," he said.

Buckeyes, Wolverines In Big Wins

By JOE MOOSHIL AP Sports Writer Poor Woody. Poor Bo. Their teams were so devastating last Saturday that neither coach can truly evaluate their respective performances. Woody Hayes' top-ranked Ohio State Buckeyes crushed Wisconsin 56-0 and Bo Schembechler's seventh-ranked Wolverines bettered that with a 69-0 demolition of Northwestern. "It's difficult to evaluate just how well you did play when a team fumbles 10 times, loses five of them and gets intercepted," said Hayes. "I don't think this game was a true assessment of our team or their team's ability," said Schembechler. Realistically, however, Hayes said "Overall we played well offensively and the defense was dynamite. That's three straight shutouts against Big Ten opponents."

Schembechler was asked why Michigan didn't throw more than five passes in the game. "You know how I love to pass," Bo said with tongue in cheek. "I didn't want to run up the score on my old roommate. Northwestern Coach John Pont was as shaken by the defeat as was Wisconsin Coach John Jardine. Pont, Schembechler's roommate at Miami of Ohio, moaned, "The scoreboard tells it all. It was totally embarrassing. We didn't react, we didn't block and we didn't tackle. They did all those things."

Houston Upsets Washington, 13-10

By BRUCE LOWITT AP Sports Writer A lot of fans figured Houston might get a kick out of Billy "White Shoes" Johnson, the Oilers' dazzling kick-returner. Instead, the Oilers showed Washington their heels when Robert Brazile got the boot. The surprising Oilers, once the laughingstock of the National Football League but now once-beaten in five games, erupted in anger Sunday after Brazile, their star rookie linebacker, was kicked out of the game. With the Redskins leading 7-6 in the third quarter, Billy Kilmer was directing Washington deep into Houston territory. And with Kilmer scrambling, Brazile rammed him out of bounds at the Houston 21 — and applied what officials said was a forearm chop to Kilmer's neck. Out of the game went Brazile — and out of the stands came a furious, thundering chorus of boos from the 51,911 fans in the Astrodome. And out came the fury of the Houston defense. It stiffened and held the Redskins to Mark Moseley's 32-yard field goal. And back came the equally aroused Houston offense, marching 62 yards with the ensuing kickoff. The final play, in the opening minute of the fourth quarter, was Don Hardeman's second one-yard touchdown plunge of the game, the one that carried Houston to a 13-10 upset victory. In the rest of the NFL, Green Bay knocked Dallas from the unbeaten ranks with a 19-17 surprise victory; Cincinnati stayed perfect by whipping Oakland 14-10; Minnesota did the same by holding off Detroit 25-19; Miami mangled the New York Jets 43-0; St. Louis beat Philadelphia 31-20; New England scored its first victory by topping Baltimore 21-10; Pittsburgh crushed Chicago 34-3; Los Angeles whipped Atlanta 22-7; Kansas City nosed out winless San Diego 12-10; San Francisco outlasted New Orleans 35-21, and Denver squeezed past winless Cleveland 16-15. Unbeaten Buffalo hosts the New York Giants tonight. Packers 19, Cowboys 17 "I'm about three feet off the ground," said slated first-year Coach Bart Starr after John Hadl gave the previously winless Packers their upset of Dallas with a 26-yard scoring pass to Rich McGeorge in the closing minutes. Bengals 14, Raiders 10 Rookie cornerback Marvin Cobb rambled 52 yards with a third-quarter interception for the touchdown that carried the Bengals past Oakland in their mistake-laden game. "When momentum is on the sidelines for both teams, when you are bottled up like that, you have to be patient and not make mistakes," said defensive end Ron Carpenter. "Today they were the ones who made the mistakes." Vikings 25, Lions 19 Fran Tarkenton fired his ninth and 10th touchdown passes of the year — four yards to Stu Voigt and 10 yards to Ed Marinaro — and Fred Cox kicked three field goals to keep Minnesota unbeaten. But the Vikings had to hold off the Lions, who fell behind 25-3, then rallied on two Bill Munson touchdown passes. Dolphins 43, Jets 0 "I didn't expect to do anything like this against the Jets," said Miami quarterback Bob Griese, who completed 10 of 14 passes for 155 yards, threw for three touchdowns and ran for one. The Dolphins intercepted Joe Namath six times. Cardinals 31, Eagles 20 Jim Otis' 116 yards gained and two touchdown runs and Jackie Smith's dazzling touchdown reception on a 30-yard Jim Hart pass helped St. Louis overcome Philadelphia's early lead. Patriots 21, Colts 10 Unheralded Andy Johnson crunched out 124 yards and scored on runs of one yard and 66 yards to carry the Patriots past Baltimore. Steelers 34, Bears 3 Terry Bradshaw's three methodical, second-half touchdown drives, one of them climaxed by his own short run, and Pittsburgh's smothering of the Chicago passing game, carried the Steelers over the Bears. Rams 22, Falcons 7 James Harris' touchdown passes of 44 yards to Bob Klein and 28 yards to Harold Jackson and three Tom Dempsey field goals boosted the Rams over Atlanta. All five scores followed turnovers by the Falcons. Chiefs 12, Chargers 10 Mike Livingston hit tight end Walter White with a 60-yard scoring pass and Jan Stenerud kicked field goals of 31 and 27 yards to lead Kansas City past the Chargers. 49ers 35, Saints 21 A blocked punt and a recovered fumble set the stage for two first-quarter San Francisco touchdowns — passes of 29 and 20 yards from Norm Snead to Gene Washington — in the 49ers' victory over New Orleans. Broncos 16, Browns 15 Jim Turner's 53-yard field goal — the longest of his 12-year pro career — coming with no time left in the game, vaulted Denver over the Browns.

Bowling At A Glance

Now that the Pumpkin Show is over for another year, we can get back to bowling. Only 19 leagues braved the crowd to get to the establishments for a time of relaxation. Back a week, Oct. 12 that is, bowlers in the Late Sunday Mixed League rolling high scores were, Ruth Strawser, 209-554; Larry Dietrich, 257-631; Don Hipp; 2-236 games with a series of 685; Sid Sanders, 602 and Sherrie Newhouse, 532. Hipp and Strawser rolled heavy team scores of 902-2545. Dwight Newhouse rattled the lanes for a 234-638 in the early Monday Night League. John Conrad and Bob Rickard each bowled scores of 222 with Conrad rolling a 609 series. In the Late Monday League at the Recreation Center, Charles Galloway rolled the high games with a 234-596. Those Midnight Roamers from GE were at it again as Alice Evans rolled a 231-542, Marcia Pontious a 200-515 and Alice Shoemaker scored a high series of 560. Sharon Hayes shined for a 224-508 in the Morning Glories League. Becky Wolfe was right behind Sharon with a 204. In another of the Ladies Leagues Barbara VanBuskirk rolled a 193-506. The Tuesday night Ladies saw Ruth Strawser bowl a 209-561; Faye Weethee had a single of 207 and Penny Dietrich rolled a series of 510.

Broncos Edge Browns; Win 16-15

DENVER (AP) — For at least three quarters of Sunday's National Football League game between Cleveland and Denver, it appeared the luckiest persons where those 279 fans who bought tickets but didn't show up. In a ghastly performance, the Browns and Broncos traded field goals, turnovers, penalties and insults. Somewhat fittingly, the most dramatic and meaningful play of the game came with no time left on the clock. Jim Turner kicked a desperation 53-yard field goal — the longest of his 12-year pro career — at the gun to give Denver a 16-15 victory. Turner's boot, and the fourthquarter relief work of Denver quarterback Steve Ramsey, offset a brilliant kicking performance by Cleveland's Don Cockroft, who booted a record five field goals.

Bob Bartholomew rolled the high single of 235 and Donald Rathburn the high series of 584 in the Ashville K of P league Tuesday. Those WNRE men made up their games Sunday and did it with a big "D" for "dy-no-mite". Single games were rolled by Randy Arledge, 258; Charlie Galloway, 254 and Dwight Newhouse, 234. High series were rolled by Randy Arledge, 664; Dwight Newhouse, 614; and Charlie Galloway, 607. Team Highs rolled at Circle D were Scioto Valley Bowling, 1109-3157; Giovanni's 1099-3088; Reynolds, 950 and Scioto Building and Loan, 2641. Out on the prairie, the royalty came to reign as Dan Teal bowled a crowning 211-599 with Carolyn Miller and Marilyn McWilliams adding a touch of sparkle with scores of 183 and 500 respectively. In the King and Queens, Steve Olney rolled a high single of 206 and Bill Ballou a series of 543. Sue Moats bowled a 198 and Karen Evans, 522. Keglers Owen Fullen and Joe Minnix were howling as they rolled scores of 245 and 593 respectively. In the Roundtowners, Tillie Smith took honors in both categories as she hit a 202-531. Steve Mogan bowled a single high of 199 and Tony Boltenhouse a series of 519 in the Prairie Men's League. Sue Moats did a little pow wow to help her take the high in both classes bowling a 178-449. Those Prairie Gals, Dorothy Jenkins and Marge Olney rolled scores of 202 and 514 respectively. Ronnie Agin shattered the pins for a single of 223 and Everett Bell rang the pins for a series of 569. A coffee break it's not, but the ladies enjoy the sport. Thelma Penwell bowled a 197 single and Donna Speakman a 520 series. In Friday's Mixed Couples high singles were rolled by Pat Henson, 195 and Pete Whitesed, 221. High Series scores were rolled by Pat Stumbo, 539 and Bob Justus, 575. Team highs bowled at the Prairie were East End Market, 961-2612; Van Camp's 957 and Spark's Roofing, 2727. It's a full schedule this week, so how about another 700?

Oilers Trip Stingers

EDMONTON (AP) — Center Norm Ullman set up two goals by Ken Baird Sunday night as the Edmonton Oilers defeated the Cincinnati Stingers 4-2 in a World Hockey Association game. Ullman, in his first WHA season after 20 years in the rival National Hockey League, set up several scoring chances besides the two Baird completions. Ullman also turned in a good job of penalty killing before a crowd of 7,181.

Logan Elm's Defense Blanks Fisher Catholic, 22-0

A stalwart defense, the passing of Bob Sargent, receiving of Jerry Scanlon and running of Jeff Reichelderfer led Logan Elm's football team to a 22-0 Mid State League win over Fisher Catholic Saturday at Fulton Field, Lancaster.

The rugged defense that held Fisher Catholic to a grand total of 45 yards rushing and passing and that came up with three interceptions included Mark Kennedy, Dave Dean, Bruce Landis, Pat Williams, Rock Huggins, Dave Calton, Wayne Linthicum, Scott Allen, Steve Rawlins, Jerry Scanlon, Jeff Hamler and Jeff Reichelderfer.

Scott Allen had one of the interceptions while Jeff Hamler came up with two as the passing attack of the Irish was completely thwarted by the rush of the forward wall and the coverage of the secondary. The Irish went to the air 20 times, completing only one pass for 10 yards.

LE quarterback Bob Sargent went to the air 11 times, completing six for a total of 143 yards and two touchdowns. His favorite target for the night was Jerry Scanlon who was on the receiving end of four passes, two for touchdowns, for a total of 92 yards. The other completions were to Rock Huggins for 16 yards and Tim Davis for 35 yards.

Once again Jeff Reichelderfer provided the power on the ground for the Braves, gaining 158 yards. He carried the ball on all but three running plays for the Braves. Once Steve Rawlins, whose blocking plays a key role in the yardage gained by his teammate, was called on to carry the pigskin and twice Sargent was forced to run when he found his receivers covered and was unable to throw the ball.

The Braves' first scoring drive came on their second possession of the ball in the game. Starting at their own 44-yard line, they marched 56 yards in nine plays with Reichelderfer taking a pitchout and running 29 yards for the score. He blasted into the end zone for the two-point conversion giving LE an 8-0 lead with 1:36 to go in the first quarter.

The second touchdown nearly wasn't allowed. The Braves, with time running out in the first half, started at their own 36. Sargent completed a 12-yard aerial to Scanlon and then Reichelderfer ran for nine yards giving LE a second and one situation at the Irish 42-yard line with less than a minute to play.

Sargent, on the next play, faded back to pass, found no receivers and started running. Just before he reached the line of scrimmage he unloaded the bomb to Scanlon who ran untouched into the end zone.

Sargent was so close to the line when he threw, the official nearest him dropped a marker at the spot and called for a measurement by the chains to determine exactly where he was when he passed. He was a yard behind the line.

Reichelderfer then carried for the conversion and the Braves held a 16-0 advantage with 33 seconds to play in the half.

The final touchdown for the Braves came in the fourth quarter. Starting at the Fisher 40, a pass to Rock Huggins moved the ball to the 24, Reichelderfer picked up nine on the ground and then Sargent hit Scanlon with his second TD throw. The run for the extra points was stopped short of the goal.

The victory leaves the Braves firmly ensconced in fifth place in the Mid State League with a 4-2 record and with a chance to win or gain a share of the title mathematically possible but realistically highly improbable.

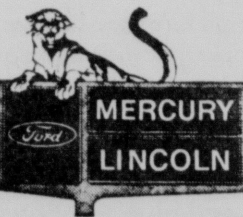

Friday the Braves host Bloom Carroll who suffered its first league loss last week at the hands of undefeated Canal Winchester.

Toledo Tops Columbus In IHL Collision, 3-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Don Westbrooke, Juri Kudrasovs and David Bates scored goals as Toledo defeated Columbus 3-1 at Toledo for the home team's third straight International Hockey League triumph against no losses.

Goalie Tony Piroksi's shutout was spoiled at 15:06 of the third period by a goal by the Owls' Gary Armstrong.

The loss was Columbus' second in as many games this season.

Houston Aeros Top Cleveland Crusaders

CLEVELAND (AP) — A third-period penalty against Cleveland Crusader Paul Shmyr "turned things around," Crusaders' Coach Johnny Wilson said after the Houston Aeros squeezed past his team 6-5 Sunday night.

The penalty enabled Houston to work a power play which resulted in a score by Andre Hinse at 10:10 to snap a 5-5 tie. Hinse scored on a deflected shot by Gordie Howe.

The NCAA cross-country championship will be held at University Park, Pa., home of Penn State, on Nov. 24.

Roy Buckley Leads Bowling Tournament

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Winning five of eight match games while averaging 226 for the session, Roy Buckley of nearby Columbus moved into first place Sunday night in the $40,000 Regional Champions Classic bowling tournament.

The 32-year-old righthander, who was fifth when the 72-man field was cut to 24 finalists earlier in the day dipped under the 200 mark only twice while rolling high games of 289 and 259.

Scott Allen had one of the interceptions while Jeff Hamler came up with two as the passing attack of the Irish was completely thwarted by the rush of the forward wall and the coverage of the secondary. The Irish went to the air 20 times, completing only one pass for 10 yards.

LE quarterback Bob Sargent went to the air 11 times, completing six for a total of 143 yards and two touchdowns. His favorite target for the night was Jerry Scanlon who was on the receiving end of four passes, two for touchdowns, for a total of 92 yards. The other completions were to Rock Huggins for 16 yards and Tim Davis for 35 yards.

Once again Jeff Reichelderfer provided the power on the ground for the Braves, gaining 158 yards. He carried the ball on all but three running plays for the Braves. Once Steve Rawlins, whose blocking plays a key role in the yardage gained by his teammate, was called on to carry the pigskin and twice Sargent was forced to run when he found his receivers covered and was unable to throw the ball.

The Braves' first scoring drive came on their second possession of the ball in the game. Starting at their own 44-yard line, they marched 56 yards in nine plays with Reichelderfer taking a pitchout and running 29 yards for the score. He blasted into the end zone for the two-point conversion giving LE an 8-0 lead with 1:36 to go in the first quarter.

The second touchdown nearly wasn't allowed. The Braves, with time running out in the first half, started at their own 36. Sargent completed a 12-yard aerial to Scanlon and then Reichelderfer ran for nine yards giving LE a second and one situation at the Irish 42-yard line with less than a minute to play.

Sargent, on the next play, faded back to pass, found no receivers and started running. Just before he reached the line of scrimmage he unloaded the bomb to Scanlon who ran untouched into the end zone.

Sargent was so close to the line when he threw, the official nearest him dropped a marker at the spot and called for a measurement by the chains to determine exactly where he was when he passed. He was a yard behind the line.

Reichelderfer then carried for the conversion and the Braves held a 16-0 advantage with 33 seconds to play in the half.

The final touchdown for the Braves came in the fourth quarter. Starting at the Fisher 40, a pass to Rock Huggins moved the ball to the 24, Reichelderfer picked up nine on the ground and then Sargent hit Scanlon with his second TD throw. The run for the extra points was stopped short of the goal.

The victory leaves the Braves firmly enshrined in fifth place in the Mid State League with a 4-2 record and with a chance to win or gain a share of the title mathematically possible but realistically highly improbable.

Friday the Braves host Bloom Carroll who suffered its first league loss last week at the hands of undefeated Canal Winchester.

Toledo Tops Columbus In IHL Collision, 3-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Don Westbrooke, Juri Kudrasovs and David Bates scored goals as Toledo defeated Columbus 3-1 at Toledo for the home team's third straight International Hockey League triumph against no losses.

Goalie Tony Piroksi's shutout was spoiled at 15:06 of the third period by a goal by the Owls' Gary Armstrong.

The loss was Columbus' second in as many games this season.

Houston Aeros Top Cleveland Crusaders

CLEVELAND (AP) — A third-period penalty against Cleveland Crusader Paul Shmyr "turned things around," Crusaders' Coach Johnny Wilson said after the Houston Aeros squeezed past his team 6-5 Sunday night.

The penalty enabled Houston to work a power play which resulted in a score by Andre Hinse at 10:10 to snap a 5-5 tie. Hinse scored on a deflected shot by Gordie Howe.

The NCAA cross-country championship will be held at University Park, Pa., home of Penn State, on Nov. 24.

Roy Buckley Leads Bowling Tournament

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Winning five of eight match games while averaging 226 for the session, Roy Buckley of nearby Columbus moved into first place Sunday night in the $40,000 Regional Champions Classic bowling tournament.

The 32-year-old righthander, who was fifth when the 72-man field was cut to 24 finalists earlier in the day dipped under the 200 mark only twice while rolling high games of 289 and 259.

GET A SECURE JOB IN A RECESSION PROOF COMPANY

The Marion Power Shovel Company, Inc., a leading world manufacturer of equipment for the open pit mining industry, is expanding rapidly in the production of mining machines.

Coal is a vitally needed mineral to help reduce the world-wide energy crisis. As a result of expansion we have immediate openings for:

Key Seaters

Must read blue prints, and be able to set up and operate machines up to 120 inch table N.C. index. Hourly rate $5.668 per hour.

Gear Cutters

Must be able to read blue prints, and set up and operate machines up to 120 inch table diameter. Machines in use are Maag Gear Cutters, Fellows, G&E, and Pfauter Hobbing Machines. Hourly rate $5.668 per hour.

Horizontal Boring Mills

Blue print reading is a must, also set up and operate machines up to 10 inch spindle table, and 10½ inch spindle floor. Hourly rate $5.578 per hour.

Planers

Blue Print reading is again essential. Also must be able to set up and operate machines up to 10' x 25' table, 4 heads. Hourly rate $5.488 per hour.

Vertical Boring Mills

Reading blue prints is essential, and must be able to set up and operate machines up to 120 inch table dimension. Hourly rate $5.488 per hour.

Master Machinists

Must be able to read blue prints, and set up and operate at least 3 or more key machines. Hourly rate $5.848 per hour.

We offer these hourly rates, plus C.O.L., an attractive benefit package, relocation assistance, and steady employment in Marion, Ohio, a town of some 40,000 people, with two well equipped and staffed hospitals, excellent Public and Parochial School Systems, plus a 4 year Marion Campus, a branch of Ohio State University, plus Marion Technical College and a new Vocational School. Modern shopping centers and excellent shops in the downtown area. Marion is within a very short drive to excellent recreational facilities, cultural and sports activities. Marion: It's a great place to raise kids. Lots of nice trees, parks, safe streets, churches, clean air, and decent people. So why not look into us and our community today.
